Israel's Warplanes Hit Arab Positions

Army Says It Repelled Saboteurs

Finds Assault Rifle And Anti-Personnel Mines In Sector

By The Associated Press

Israeli warplanes attacked Arab positions in Jordan today to silence guns which had fired on an army patrol, an Israeli army sopkesman reported.

The spokesman said the planes roared in low over the Jordan River near Beit Yosef, 10 miles south of the Sea of Galilee.

No further details of the attack were available immediately.

The army also said it intercepted and drove back a band of saboteurs who had crossed from Jordan into Israel near Massada, just south of Galilee Wednesday night.

The spokesman said Israeli troops found an assault rifle and a bag of antipersonnel mines in a search of the area.

Jordan reported earlier that armed Israeli helicopters struck at Jordanian forces in the southern desert Wednesday and that a Jordanian soldier was killed.

There was no admission of the attack from the Israelis, but the same area along the Jordanian-Israeli frontier was the scene of an Israeli helicopter attack Tuesday in which three Jordanian security police were killed.

A Jordanian spokesman in Amman said that on Wednesday five Israeli helicopters crossed the frontier with a jet fighter escort and machine-gunned Jordanians near the frontier village of Gharandal, 40 miles north of the port of Aqaba. In addition to the soldier killed, two civilians were wounded in the attack, the spokesman said.

The attack was reported less than 12 hours after the U.N. Security Council condemned Israel for the commando raid Saturday in which 13 Lebanese commercial aircraft were destroyed at Beirut's International Airport.

Because of the Beirut airport attack, London underwriters announced a 500 per cent increase

Heavy Wind, Snow In Northeast

Bone-Chilling Cold Holds Grip On Most Of Country

By The Associated Press

Bone-chilling cold gripped nearly two-thirds of the nation today, its bite compounded by gale-force winds and heavy snows in parts of the Northeast.

The cold wave which broke out of the northwest early in the week and drove temperatures to their lowest marks of the season throughout the midcontinent completed a cross-country sweep and dropped the mercury near or below zero in the Northeast.

The Weather Bureau expected temperatures to dive to zero or below in portions of 30 states from the northern Rockies to New England and southward to North Carolina.

Biting winds drove the bitter cold onto the Eastern Seaboard. Heavy squalls along the eastern shores of Lakes Erie and Ontario dumped deep snows into portions of upstate New York, Pennsylvania and New England.

Fourteen inches of snow fell on the northern New York community of Boonville throughout New Year's Day to give the area a total accumulation of 40 inches. Six inches blanketed Erie, Pa., and heavier amounts ranged into northern New England.

The snows combined with heavy wind cut visibility and forced closing of Erie International Airport late Wednesday. But the cold didn't deter six members of the Erie Skindivers Club who chopped a hole in the Lake Erie ice and jumped into 33-degree waters.

"It was a whole lot colder on the dock than in the water," remarked Don Herick after the icy dip.

Falling temperatures and rising winds forced postponement Wednesday of the annual Mummers Parade at Philadelphia. The parade, featuring 16,000 costumed marchers, was rescheduled for Saturday.

The arctic weather and snow also meant an extended holiday vacation for many school children in northern lower Michigan where 10 school districts announced there would be no classes for the remainder of the week.

Travelers warnings remained in effect for northern portions of Oregon due to a treacherous combination of freezing rain and sleet. Much of the region was buried under heavy snows earlier in the week.

Rain dampened other sections of the northern Pacific coast and snow dusted portions of the interior to the Rockies.

113 Lost Lives Christmas Week

U.S. War Death Toll Hit 10-Week Low End Of '68

SAIGON (AP) — The year 1968 ended with the lowest weekly American death toll since the bombing of North Vietnam ended, the U.S. Command reported today. But the number of South Vietnamese dead was the highest in three months, indicating an increasing part in the war by the Saigon government's troops.

The reported toll of enemy dead was as usual, above 2,000 and five times the allied total.

Communiques today reflected the recent changed nature of the war—small, widely scattered ground actions, the uncovering of more enemy supply dumps, and the shelling of allied posts coupled with enemy hit-and-run attacks.

The death of 113 American servicemen Christmas week was the lowest in 10 weeks. South Vietnamese losses in the same week were 279 dead, the highest in 13 weeks, while 2,125 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were reported killed.

The casualty report covered the Christmas truce period, and the figures indicated the cease-fire was only nominally observed.

The cease-fire declared by the Viet Cong command for New Year's ended early today, and shortly after two American bases and one South Vietnamese post were shelled.

No significant ground action was remorted, although American and South Vietnamese troops were patrolling up and down the country.

Coed Home On Christmas Vacation Is Found Slain

Dark-haired Marina Elizabeth Habe, daughter of Hans Habe of Zurich, Switzerland, and Eloise Hardt, was last seen when she left on a date Sunday night.

"She was definitely murdered," said Sheriff's Lt. Norman Hamilton who was at the scene when the body was recovered. However, he said the cause of death would not be announced until after a coroner's autopsy. Witnesses said there were no visible marks on the body.

"A lot of detectives have some ideas on this," he said, "and we want to hold off until we can investigate them. . . It's important that this body be properly examined."

No arrests were made, but Sheriff's Lt. Harold White said an alarm had been issued for a car seen near the girl's home early Wednesday morning. He said the male driver tried to molest a woman.

The girl's home in the Hollywood hills is located about four miles from the ravine where Marina was found. Officers said the ravine, clogged with thick brush, is off Mulholland Drive, a road known as a lovers lane.

A search party found Marina's body about 30 feet down a slope. Searchers went there after a woman walking on Mulholland Drive reported finding a purse. In it were Marina's com-

District Due Relief From Biting Cold

Some relief is in sight from the biting cold which has gripped the area.

The forecast calls for partly cloudy tonight and cloudy with a chance of light snow and a little warmer Wednesday.

Tonight's low will be in the teens or the 20s and Friday's high will range from 25 to 30.

The overnight low was 10 degrees above at Millport, according to Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer. The mercury dipped to zero Tuesday night and remained there until midday Wednesday, he added.

North Side Fire House Shut Down By Illness

The North Side fire station remains closed because illness has cut into the number of men available, but the city's other three fire houses are operating, Mayor George E. Willshaw said today.

Four men were off duty today because of illness. The Pleasant Heights station was closed earlier because of illnesses, but is functioning today. Central and East End stations also are manned.

Last Reading Slated On Tax At Wellsville

Wellsville Council is scheduled to give third and final reading tonight to legislation establishing a yearly $5 fee on motor vehicles.

To accommodate the work schedule of some of the members, the special meeting will begin at 11:15.

The action must be certified to the Ohio registrar of motor vehicles at Columbus by Sunday, the deadline for it to become law.

The ordinance received second reading during another special meeting Wednesday at 1:15 p.m. by a 5-to-1 vote.

Councilmen Russell Keefer, Glenn Mathess, Paul Todd, Jack Call and Nunzio Lombardozzi voted "yes" and Robert Taggart "no."

Brad Phillips, who has indicated he favors the proposal, was unable to be present because of illness.

Todd explained his switch to the affirmative by pointing out that the tax was going to pass regardless of his viewpoint and commented that if properly administered he didn't see why it shouldn't be approved.

Taggart explained his vote by declaring that he felt the meetings were held too quickly and that the public should have been given an opportunity to ask questions in order to become more fully informed on the matter. He added that the tax would be an undue expense on those with limited incomes.

Council President Wayne Rose commented that anyone owning a car could afford to pay the tax.

Hanoi Stands Pat On Proposal

Lull To Get Peace Talks Going Persists Into 1969

PARIS (AP)—The long lull in negotiations to get the Vietnam peace talks going again persisted into the new year with Hanoi standing fast on its last proposal and the United States and South Vietnam debating whether to accept it.

It has been two weeks since U.S. negotiator Cyrus R. Vance last bargained with Col. Ha Van Lau of North Vietnam over the shape of the conference table and other issues delaying the parley.

U.S. officials said the main diplomatic activity on their side at the moment is in Saigon, where U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker has been talking with President Nguyen Van Thieu.

The Americans are anxious to get on with the four-party conference proposed by President Johnson and are less concerned than their South Vietnamese partners about prestige items. But Saigon is vigorously opposed to anything that looks like recognition of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front as anything more than a subordinate of North Vietnam.

W. Averell Harriman, the head of the U.S. delegation, expressed hope that the deadlock will be broken by the time President - elect Nixon takes office Jan. 20 so "we can at least leave the new administration with talks that have started."

In a New Year's interview, Harriman said the Johnson administration's effort in 1968 "started on the road toward peace" and presents an opportunity to its successor.

Although he warned of tough negotiations ahead and would predict no timetable for the outcome, Harriman voiced hope that the Paris sessions would bring an end of the fighting in 1969.

Traffic Toll Hits Record For Holiday

By The Associated Press

Late reports pushed the count to 161 early today.

The record for a 30-hour New Year's period since World War II had been 160, set in 1957. This also was the most recent time the holiday driving period ran 30 hours.

During a recent nonholiday midweek period of equal length, highway mishaps took the lives of 107 persons. The count was made by The Associated Press for a comparison with the New Year's toll.

The National Safety Council had estimated that 200 to 260 persons might die in taffic accidents during the period which began at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

Bad driving weather was common throughout the Pacific Northwest, over much of the Major Task Facing Group

Senate OK Of A-Treaty Slim Before LBJ Leaves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Action on the nuclear non-proliferation treaty is the major task facing the new Senate, but chances for ratification before President Johnson leaves office appear slim.

Failure by the Senate to ratify the treaty, intended to curb the spread of nuclear weapons, before Jan. 20 would be a major disappointment for Johnson.

He repeatedly called for quick Senate action before Congress adjourned last October and as late as early December was still thinking of calling the Senate into special session to consider the treaty.

Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois has left up to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana the decision on when to bring up the treaty for a vote.

Dirksen said in an interview he is willing to take it up as soon as organization matters have been cleared away after Friday's convening of Congress. Mansfield has promised Johnson to act quickly.

However, Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., have prepared an attack on the Senate's rule 22 which requires two-thirds approval of those voting to choke off a filibuster.

Dirksen said that his biennial argument over changing the Senate's rules at the start of each new Congress could consume a week if no agreement is reached.

The Senate will swear in its new members Friday. There is doubt that it will reconvene after a joint session of Congress Monday to canvass the presidential election returns. Thus the battle over the rules is not likely to get under way until Jan. 7.

Beyond that, moreover, lies opposition to the treaty's terms that may spawn lengthy debate which could preclude a ratification vote before President-elect Nixon takes office.

Nixon has said he favors ratification. But he suggested during the campaign that action on the treaty be delayed because of the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Nixon has raised no public objection to early action in the new session. But there is a feeling among some Republicans that he would not be adverse to having future ratification of the treaty as a bargaining point in any early meeting that might be arranged between him and Russian leaders.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., has asked for additional hearings by the Senate foreign Relations committee, which already has approved the treaty. Aiken says he wants to make sure that the passage of peaceful nuclear information along to nonnuclear countries will not result in subsidizing future operations by oil combines.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., has raised the issue of the treaty's lack of inspection provisions to enforce its terms.

The treaty, as hammered out by the Geneva disarmament conference and approved by the U.N. General Assembly last Spring becomes effective when signed by the United States, Russia and 40 other nations.

By signing, nations who possess nuclear weaponry would agree not to give have-not nations nuclear arms or any help developing them and have-nots would agree not to seek arms or know-how.

By New Congress

Tax-Free Status Of Two Groups Due Close Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax-free status of charitable institutions and the exemption from capital gains taxes enjoyed by heirs are due for careful scrutiny in the new Congress, informed sources say.

These two areas are designated for special study as part of a look at tax reforms that sources say Congress will undertake regardless of what Richard M. Nixon does with recommendations of the Johnson administration.

The controversial 27.5 per cent oil depletion allowance, however, is not scheduled for review, sources said Wednesday night.

President Johnson said Tuesday in San Antonio, Tex., he is making available to Congress and the incoming administration a package of tax reform proposals developed by the Treasury Department.

Johnson added, however, he had not examined the proposals and is making no recommendation concerning them.

Johnson was instructed by Congress to provide recommendations on tax reform by Dec. 31. His referral of the Treasury proposals came a few hours before the deadline.

Sources close to Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee where all tax legislation originates, said Mills avoided receiving any advance information on the Treasury proposals, apparently preferring they go first to the Nixon administration.

Mills, however, was said to favor making a start on tax reform this year, although the time required to steer a comprehensive revision of the Internal Revenue Code through both houses of Congress almost certainly rules out any final action earlier than 1970.

The question of whether the 10 per cent income surtax will be extended beyond June 30 is not involved in tax reform proposals, which are concerned with long-range revisions in the tax structure.

Mills has said that this question is up to the new administration which will make its recommendations on the basis of the state of the economy, particularly the war in Vietnam.

Capital gains—the difference between the price at which an asset such as stock or real estate is bought and the selling price—are taxable if the owner sells during his lifetime. However, if he dies and leaves such assets to heirs, their base for taxation is the value of the asset at the time of death. They therefore avoid paying the capital gains tax if they subsequently sell the property.

This is one aspect of the tax code which has come under increasing criticism in recent years.

There have been various congressional hearings on alleged abuses of contributions to charitable foundations with allegations some foundations are used as a tax dodge.

Ohio's Public School Enrollment Increases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State School Supt. Martin Essex says Ohio's public school enrollment is 2,395,387—an increase of 36,868 over last year and about 8,500 more than expected for this year.

Essex attributed the big jump to vocational and special education courses, which he said had the greatest enrollment increases over the past 10 years.

Youngstown Schools Are Set To Reopen

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Youngstown public schools, closed since Nov. 27 because of lack of funds, were to reopen today with money borrowed against taxes to be collected this year.

The more than 27,000 pupils will have to make up the lost time by attending classes until June 24. However, there will be no money to start the 1969-70 term unless a new school levy is passed.

The school board said it ran out of money because tax rates, which have not increased since 1963, are too low. The last six new school levy proposals were defeated by the voters.

A decision to close the schools came after school officials learned they would have only $6,000 to meet a $1 million December payroll. The school board had borrowed $1.5 million from banks since August, but state law prevented the schools from borrowing any more until after Jan. 1.

Organized labor, the city's most powerful political force, has been lukewarm in the levy campaigns. Only two of the larger unions—school employes and Teamsters—backed the last levy proposal, which was defeated at the November general election.

The Youngstown Vindicator, in a precedent-breaking front page New Year's resolution, resolved "to do everything possible to get the Youngstown city school system into smooth and efficient operation with adequate financing."

It added that "if this means passing a school levy, the Vindicator resolves not to rest until a levy is passed."

U.S. Combat Victims Hit 10-Week Low

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. combat deaths in Vietnam dropped last week to 113, the lowest total in 10 weeks, while deaths among South Vietnamese government forces were the highest in 13 weeks.

The two commands reported 2,135 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed, an average claim.

The weekly casualty report covered Christmas cease-fires proclaimed by the allies and the Viet Cong.

U.S. headquarters said the American toll last week was the lowest since the week of Oct. 20-26 when 109 died.

The number of wounded last week increased over the previous week, however. Spokesmen said 1,021 Americans were wounded last week, with 429 of them hospitalized, while in the previous week the total was 838.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that 279 government military personnel were killed last week, a sharp rise over the 202 reported for in the previous seven-day period. The deaths were the highest since the week ending Oct. 5 when 322 South Vietnamese were reported killed in action.

The report raised to 30,543 the number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961, U.S. headquarters reported. It said the American wounded in that period total 192,327, and 429,843 enemy have been killed.

Senate OK Of A-Treaty Slim Before LBJ Leaves

Failure by the Senate to ratify the treaty, intended to curb the spread of nuclear weapons, before Jan. 20 would be a major disappointment for Johnson.

He repeatedly called for quick Senate action before Congress adjourned last October and as late as early December was still thinking of calling the Senate into special session to consider the treaty.

Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois has left up to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana the decision on when to bring up the treaty for a vote.

Dirksen said in an interview he is willing to take it up as soon as organization matters have been cleared away after Friday's convening of Congress. Mansfield has promised Johnson to act quickly.

However, Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., have prepared an attack on the Senate's rule 22 which requires two-thirds approval of those voting to choke off a filibuster.

Dirksen said that his biennial argument over changing the Senate's rules at the start of each new Congress could consume a week if no agreement is reached.

The Senate will swear in its new members Friday. There is doubt that it will reconvene after a joint session of Congress Monday to canvass the presidential election returns. Thus the battle over the rules is not likely to get under way until Jan. 7.

Beyond that, moreover, lies opposition to the treaty's terms that may spawn lengthy debate which could preclude a ratification vote before President-elect Nixon takes office.

Nixon has said he favors ratification. But he suggested during the campaign that action on the treaty be delayed because of the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Nixon has raised no public objection to early action in the new session. But there is a feeling among some Republicans that he would not be adverse to having future ratification of the treaty as a bargaining point in any early meeting that might be arranged between him and Russian leaders.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., has asked for additional hearings by the Senate foreign Relations committee, which already has approved the treaty. Aiken says he wants to make sure that the passage of peaceful nuclear information along to nonnuclear countries will not result in subsidizing future operations by oil combines.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., has raised the issue of the treaty's lack of inspection provisions to enforce its terms.

The treaty, as hammered out by the Geneva disarmament conference and approved by the U.N. General Assembly last Spring becomes effective when signed by the United States, Russia and 40 other nations.

By signing, nations who possess nuclear weaponry would agree not to give have-not nations nuclear arms or any help developing them and have-nots would agree not to seek arms or know-how.

By New Congress

Tax-Free Status Of Two Groups Due Close Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax-free status of charitable institutions and the exemption from capital gains taxes enjoyed by heirs are due for careful scrutiny in the new Congress, informed sources say.

These two areas are designated for special study as part of a look at tax reforms that sources say Congress will undertake regardless of what Richard M. Nixon does with recommendations of the Johnson administration.

The controversial 27.5 per cent oil depletion allowance, however, is not scheduled for review, sources said Wednesday night.

President Johnson said Tuesday in San Antonio, Tex., he is making available to Congress and the incoming administration a package of tax reform proposals developed by the Treasury Department.

Johnson added, however, he had not examined the proposals and is making no recommendation concerning them.

Johnson was instructed by Congress to provide recommendations on tax reform by Dec. 31. His referral of the Treasury proposals came a few hours before the deadline.

Sources close to Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee where all tax legislation originates, said Mills avoided receiving any advance information on the Treasury proposals, apparently preferring they go first to the Nixon administration.

Mills, however, was said to favor making a start on tax reform this year, although the time required to steer a comprehensive revision of the Internal Revenue Code through both houses of Congress almost certainly rules out any final action earlier than 1970.

The question of whether the 10 per cent income surtax will be extended beyond June 30 is not involved in tax reform proposals, which are concerned with long-range revisions in the tax structure.

Mills has said that this question is up to the new administration which will make its recommendations on the basis of the state of the economy, particularly the war in Vietnam.

Capital gains—the difference between the price at which an asset such as stock or real estate is bought and the selling price—are taxable if the owner sells during his lifetime. However, if he dies and leaves such assets to heirs, their base for taxation is the value of the asset at the time of death. They therefore avoid paying the capital gains tax if they subsequently sell the property.

This is one aspect of the tax code which has come under increasing criticism in recent years.

There have been various congressional hearings on alleged abuses of contributions to charitable foundations with allegations some foundations are used as a tax dodge.

20 Toledo Policemen Called In Jail Unrest

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—About 20 Toledo policemen were summoned to the Lucas County Jail Wednesday night when 30 prisoners refused to return to their cells from a bullpen area.

Most of the inmates were persuaded to go to their two-man cells, but four resisted the officers and were placed in solitary confinement. There were no injuries during the incident.

Ohio's Public School Enrollment Increases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State School Supt. Martin Essex says Ohio's public school enrollment is 2,395,387—an increase of 36,868 over last year and about 8,500 more than expected for this year.

Essex attributed the big jump to vocational and special education courses, which he said had the greatest enrollment increases over the past 10 years.

Youngstown Schools Are Set To Reopen

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Youngstown public schools, closed since Nov. 27 because of lack of funds, were to reopen today with money borrowed against taxes to be collected this year.

The more than 27,000 pupils will have to make up the lost time by attending classes until June 24. However, there will be no money to start the 1969-70 term unless a new school levy is passed.

The school board said it ran out of money because tax rates, which have not increased since 1963, are too low. The last six new school levy proposals were defeated by the voters.

A decision to close the schools came after school officials learned they would have only $6,000 to meet a $1 million December payroll. The school board had borrowed $1.5 million from banks since August, but state law prevented the schools from borrowing any more until after Jan. 1.

Organized labor, the city's most powerful political force, has been lukewarm in the levy campaigns. Only two of the larger unions—school employes and Teamsters—backed the last levy proposal, which was defeated at the November general election.

The Youngstown Vindicator, in a precedent-breaking front page New Year's resolution, resolved "to do everything possible to get the Youngstown city school system into smooth and efficient operation with adequate financing."

It added that "if this means passing a school levy, the Vindicator resolves not to rest until a levy is passed."

U.S. Combat Victims Hit 10-Week Low

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. combat deaths in Vietnam dropped last week to 113, the lowest total in 10 weeks, while deaths among South Vietnamese government forces were the highest in 13 weeks.

The two commands reported 2,135 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed, an average claim.

The weekly casualty report covered Christmas cease-fires proclaimed by the allies and the Viet Cong.

U.S. headquarters said the American toll last week was the lowest since the week of Oct. 20-26 when 109 died.

The number of wounded last week increased over the previous week, however. Spokesmen said 1,021 Americans were wounded last week, with 429 of them hospitalized, while in the previous week the total was 838.

Vietnam

gunners in Ha Bac Province brought down a pilotless U.S. reconnaissance plane today. The U.S. Command does not comment on the activities of pilotless planes over the North.

Since the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands did not declare a New Year's truce this year, there was no question of any violations. A U.S. spokesman said the war "went on at about the same level—it wasn't as bad as it has been and it wasn't as good as it could be."

The Viet Cong cease-fire ended at 1 a.m. Saigon time—about the time millions of Americans were turning on television sets to watch the annual bowl games.

Within a few minutes about 10 enemy shells burst on the U.S. Marine airfield at Marble Mountain, near Da Nang. A few hours later an artillery base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 60 miles north of Saigon was hit by about 65 mortar rounds. Casualties and damage were light, officers reported.

Viet Cong gunners also opened up on U.S. Navy river boats moving South Vietnamese troops along a Mekong Delta canal. Ten Navy men were wounded, and South Vietnaese casualties were described as "light." Enemy casualties were not known.

North of Saigon at the U.S. 24th Evacuation Hospital, three 21-year-old American soldiers freed by the Viet Cong on New Years's Day were eating heartily and preparing for a quick return home.

A spokesman said the three would complete their preliminary debriefings today and would probably be aboard an evacuation flight to the United States early Friday.

They were preceded by Maj. James Rowe, of McAllen, Tex., the Special Forces officer who escaped Tuesday from five years of imprisonment. He left early today.

AP photogapher Horst Faas, who witnessed the transfer of the three enlisted men near the Cambodian border, said Jones and Smith were worn and pale and Smith had swollen feet and a slight limp. An Army doctor who examined them at the hospital said their general condition was satisfactory to good and all three "appear to be in full control of their mental facilities."

Doctors said Rowe also was in good condition. He smiled when an Army photographer snapped his picture.

Newsmen were not permitted to talk to any of them. However, the U.S. Command revised its earlier report that said Rowe was freed by troops of South Vietnam's 21st Infantry Division. A spokesman said Rowe heard the roar of American helicopters supporting South Vietnamese troops in the Mekong Delta, "overpowered an armed enemy guard and escaped." He fled to an open area and was picked up by a helicopter crew.

A Special Forces adviser to a South Vietnamese unit, Rowe had been listed as missing in action since his unit suffered heavy casualties in an ambush in the delta on Oct. 29, 1963.

Saigon Reports Terrorists Killed 5,362 In 1968

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government said today that terrorists killed at least 5,362 civilians in South Vietnam in 1968.

The year-end report also said 11,837 civilians were wounded and 8,556 kidnaped by the Viet Cong.

Comparative figures for previous years are not available.

Terrorism includes Viet Cong assassinations, bombings, kidnapings and other acts of violence against civilians or local self-defense units.

Vietnam

gunners in Ha Bac Province brought down a pilotless U.S. reconnaissance plane today. The U.S. Command does not comment on the activities of pilotless planes over the North.

Since the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands did not declare a New Year's truce this year, there was no question of any violations. A U.S. spokesman said the war "went on at about the same level—it wasn't as bad as it has been and it wasn't as good as it could be."

The Viet Cong cease-fire ended at 1 a.m. Saigon time—about the time millions of Americans were turning on television sets to watch the annual bowl games.

Within a few minutes about 10 enemy shells burst on the U.S. Marine airfield at Marble Mountain, near Da Nang. A few hours later an artillery base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 60 miles north of Saigon was hit by about 65 mortar rounds. Casualties and damage were light, officers reported.

Viet Cong gunners also opened up on U.S. Navy river boats moving South Vietnamese troops along a Mekong Delta canal. Ten Navy men were wounded, and South Vietnaese casualties were described as "light." Enemy casualties were not known.

North of Saigon at the U.S. 24th Evacuation Hospital, three 21-year-old American soldiers freed by the Viet Cong on New Years's Day were eating heartily and preparing for a quick return home.

A spokesman said the three would complete their preliminary debriefings today and would probably be aboard an evacuation flight to the United States early Friday.

They were preceded by Maj. James Rowe, of McAllen, Tex., the Special Forces officer who escaped Tuesday from five years of imprisonment. He left early today.

AP photogapher Horst Faas, who witnessed the transfer of the three enlisted men near the Cambodian border, said Jones and Smith were worn and pale and Smith had swollen feet and a slight limp. An Army doctor who examined them at the hospital said their general condition was satisfactory to good and all three "appear to be in full control of their mental facilities."

Doctors said Rowe also was in good condition. He smiled when an Army photographer snapped his picture.

Newsmen were not permitted to talk to any of them. However, the U.S. Command revised its earlier report that said Rowe was freed by troops of South Vietnam's 21st Infantry Division. A spokesman said Rowe heard the roar of American helicopters supporting South Vietnamese troops in the Mekong Delta, "overpowered an armed enemy guard and escaped." He fled to an open area and was picked up by a helicopter crew.

A Special Forces adviser to a South Vietnamese unit, Rowe had been listed as missing in action since his unit suffered heavy casualties in an ambush in the delta on Oct. 29, 1963.

Saigon Reports Terrorists Killed 5,362 In 1968

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government said today that terrorists killed at least 5,362 civilians in South Vietnam in 1968.

The year-end report also said 11,837 civilians were wounded and 8,556 kidnaped by the Viet Cong.

Faith In The Future

We sometimes get so wrapped up in trying to unravel the riddle of life, listening to the prophets of doom and chastising ourselves for a myriad of shortcomings that everything seems to fall into a disarray of hopelessness.

Moral decay seems to be replacing virtue, the persistent extremist seems to be making headway against responsible dissent and militancy seems to be outdistancing reason on all levels.

Altogether, it is a thoroughly disenchanting portrait.

THEN ALONG COMES a ray of hope in the figures of the respected Gallup Poll that indicates 98 per cent of Americans profess a belief in God.

We feel this high percentage is meaningful, not because it neatly ties up a nation's religious belief into a smart little package that hides a smug complacency, but because it encompasses so many shades of belief from so many different people.

It indicates a deep-rooted belief in principles of the highest order that gives man a standard to shoot for.

Professing a belief in God does not mean the same thing to all people, but it does give them a type of kinship in adhering to broad general principles.

Different religions have different rules, but they agree basically that man should strive for decency, morality and kindness, with special emphasis on love.

This vibrant force at work in the nation is not boxed inside our churches, nor is it limited to church members.

A belief in a higher order and a higher purpose for man can be expressed in many ways —all of them more eloquent than by words alone.

The strength of the nation is derived from this free expression that is shown by young people who care about others, who get involved in action programs.

People who love and care are scout leaders, Sunday school teachers and volunteer workers of all kinds. They visit the sick, provide for the needy and can be counted on in times of crisis. They contribute money to missionary projects and disaster relief funds.

They take care of their families and share love and money with others who are less fortunate.

BY THE SAME TOKEN, they are human and make mistakes. They do not always know how to go about solving the big problems, but they are willing to try if someone points the way.

It is in this great multitude of good people in America that hope for the future exists.

A belief in God means more than a certain pew every Sunday. It is an expression of commitment to service in a troubled world, an expression that good and not evil is the prime motivation in our nation today and a solid reason to have faith in the future of America.

Democrats In Power Struggle

The key word among Democrats, as they embark on a new year that will soon see their boss depart the White House, is still unity.

The rub is that not all Democrats agree on how unity can best be gained. The power struggle already shaping up within the party has ramifications beyond Democratic ranks.

FIRST TO THROW a challenge before the old guard was Arizona Congressman Morris Udall who seeks to unseat 77-year-old John McCormack as speaker of the House.

The latest, and even more significant challenge, comes from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy who is bidding for Russel B. Long's job as assistant Democratic leader of the senate.

Behind the maneuvering on party fronts is the inescapable fact that some Democrats are looking ahead to the 1972 presidential race. Sen. Kennedy, in a Senate leadership role, would be in a leadership position that could prove valuable when presidential prospects are being evaluated for '72.

Neither Rep. Udall nor Sen. Kennedy are given much chance for unseating the incumbents. But the fact they tried not only displays the liberal-conservative ideological split in the Democratic party but it also is a clear warning to the Nixon administration that personal ambitions will be a factor in relations behind the White House and Congress.

Even if Sen. Kennedy is unable to dislodge Louisiana's Sen. Long, who holds all the trump cards, he has firmly charted himself an independent course and likely will become the leader of Senate liberals — but not without a fight. Sen. Kennedy's announcement of his decision to take a crack at ousting Sen. Long said he had the "support and encouragement" of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

BUT PERSONAL REACTIONS from the men who were defeated in their White House bid last November, were less than enthusiastic.

They obviously are not ready to relinquish their prominent party positions to Mr. Kennedy without a struggle.

The next four years hold too many uncertainties to guess where personal political goals will lead these men and what effect they will have on the nation.

It is safe to say the 1972 Democratic presidential sweepstakes is already under way.

Driving Progress

A lot more than safe driving went into bringing down Columbiana County's traffic toll from 39 in 1967 to 31 in 1968.

Much tribute is due naturally to the men and women and young people who successfully operated their cars without mishap.

But improved highways—such as the extension of the Route 11 which eliminated the Cannons Mills hill—contributed to the lower death rate, as did better signs and other engineering changes along with some stricter enforcement of regulations in many areas.

Consistent progress in modern traffic flow, in education of drivers to caution on the highways and in punishment of those who ignore the law should mean less bloodshed and pain on our roads in the coming year.

Letters To The Editor

A person wonders how long the people in this county will listen to the ravings of a man like Mr. Boyd. First of all the people of the home, their care, and welfare are of prime importance, yet the commissioners have failed in their duty of contracting for a physician for 3½ months. The Commissioners have the sole authority to contract for a doctor for the Home. Mr. Boyd seems to imply that it was my fault that the Doctors from the Bacon and Cibula Clinic quit the Home. If the public is interested, Dr. Bacon could easily straighten this out. Dr. Budjoso as the junior member of the Clinic was our doctor until Dr. Rankis came to Lisbon, then as the junior member of the medical profession, Dr. Rankis took over at the Home. I still feel this way, that if the Commissioners paid a decent salary, and quit creating so much adverse or notorious publicity then they might get some doctor interested. Just like Dr. Rankis, he stated that on a trip to New York that he was ribbed about our infamous Bull Story with Mr. Murray.

In respect to wages for the farm hands or anyone else working here at the Home. Those of you who work for the County or State knows full well the problem of trying to obtain a decent living wage. Part of my people could live better if they quit working and went on welfare.

Produce and meat was removed from the farm hands; this was promised returned by Mr. Boyd even though it was illegal, but then Mr. Boyd never kept the promise—this can be verified by the different hands that had worked here. Our nurses aides, who do a beautiful job, deserve more than $1.21 per hour, but if one suggests a raise, where do you get all the static from? The Commissioners office, but they were willing to increase their own wages to $9,000 per year. That would pay 3½ nurses aides wages for a year. The women that clean the Court House supposedly are making $300 plus—yet my nurses aides who would definitely be classed as semi-skilled only make $210 per month. Yet Mr. Boyd tries to convince the public that wages haven't been a problem.

Also according to the Code I have only the authority to hire and fire, the Commissioners by law establish the rate of pay.

I personally feel that I, and even the Commissioners, are very fortunate to have a crew like the one we have at the County Home. Their devotion to care of our elderly residents is marvelous.

I think it is high time that the groups of people who come to visit the Home, or people who have relatives here contact Mr. Boyd or the Board of Commissioners and tell them what they think of the care and upkeep of patients plus the Home in general.

Conservation Urged

Traveling across America, from state to state, must truly be a unique experience. A person would get the opportunity to see the tremendous beauty and splendor of America.

America at this time has its share of foreign and domestic problems, but it is still the greatest and most productive nation in the world. We, citizens of America, are all very lucky indeed, to be living in a nation which has the superior industry, fine agriculture, and ingenius scientific know how, such as America has.

These factors help make America one of the most modern nations in the world today. Also, they make for constant job opportunities which are the "back-bone" of America. This country would not be the great and prosperous nation that it is today without its abundance of natural resources. Without the management and preservation of our resources, our future generations could not possibly enjoy the comforts and conveniences that we Americans now take for granted.

Think about it! Where would most of the residents of our own city of East Liverpool be employed if it was not for the steel mills which need an abundant supply of iron ore, coal, limestone, and other resources; or for the potteries which are entirely dependent upon clay and a few other resources?

Where would the farmers of Ohio be if there was not an abundant supply of fertile soil in which to plant their crops? Every business, large or small, is dependent upon our country's resources. If we abuse these resources by poor farming methods, careless forest fires, destruction of wildlife, and polluting of water, the America of tomorrow will not have a chance.

It is the job of each American citizen to help conserve our resources whenever and wherever possible. For the average American citizen this means such things as extinguishing all outdoor fires thoroughly, never destroying natural plants or wildlife which live in our state parks, forests and woodlands, and always keeping road banks and private land well cultivated to help prevent soil erosion and to keep America green. It's your job to help keep America beautiful and prosperous!

Labor Is Going For Nixon

WASHINGTON — Richard Nixon simply does not have to depend on his membership card in the musicians union. Any time he wishes now, he can get, dues-free, into the plumbers, carpenters, laborers or operating engineers. They're all with him now. And they're saying so.

The labor movement's establishment, made up of leaders of building and construction trade unions, with a tightly unified membership of 3.8 million, say publicly and privately they're happy with President-elect Nixon, his cabinet and his "style."

Privately they now tell each other, and an occasional caller, that most of them are not at all unhappy Hubert Humphrey lost — and that the former vice president can go right ahead rebuilding the Democratic Party, but without them.

If they mean what they say, they're defecting.

One of their spokesmen was hardly shy about it all the other day. He opined that the incoming President need only call in some of the construction union chiefs and talk to them about efforts to talk local unions out of demanding huge wage increases — and they would cooperate in putting the ceiling on rising costs. There is just a law, or two, they seek and "we are ready to work with Nixon right through 1972 and for his reelection."

THIS HARDLY SOUNDS like the Building and Construction Trades Dept. (AFL-CIO) last September, but they are fond of the President-elect as they roll into the New Year.

"He'd have been justified in telling us to go to hell," says a department executive officer. "But he didn't. Yet he's named one of the best cabinets we've had."

Private conversations with the old-line building union chiefs are sonic with earthy enthusiasm for Mr. Nixon. In public, the tone is more dignified but hardly coy.

"The new group (Mr. Nixon's cabinet) bears a much closer resemblance to the Kennedy and Johnson secretaries they will replace than to the Eisenhower team from which they are theoretically descended," says the department's latest Bulletin.

"While the cabinet members certainly are not expected to follow the ideologic beliefs of Democrats, neither apparently do they represent a wrecking crew.

"Indeed, in private conversations, Mr. Nixon has stressed the need for effective administration rather than for more innovative legislation in the next few years."

The powerful construction union chiefs like this, just as they like Mr. Nixon's "style and fashion of doing things" — which are the words used in subsequent private conversations with this columnist.

DICK NIXON IS their kind of man, they say. They're upper middle class, law-and-order suburbanites. They have little in common with the avant-garde intellectuals who have had such influence in the liberal section of the Democratic Party.

The union leaders instead point to the action men in Mr. Nixon's cabinet — five of whom have worked closely with the labor movement. In addition to Chicago's George Shultz (Secretary of Labor), whose academia they are ready to forgive and forget, there are four secretaries who were literally construction workers.

It is with glee that the building union chiefs note that Secretary of Transportation John Volpe started as a hod carrier; Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George Romney began as a carpenter's helper; Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel landed in Alaska with 48 cents and went to work as a day laborer; and Postmaster General Winton (Red) Blount is one of the nation's biggest construction contractors. He's from Montgomery, but he did buck George Wallace.

Thus, there are four men who have worked closely with construction unions. Mr. Hickel has built everything from small homes to shopping centers and hotels. Gov. Volpe, still a contractor at heart, not too long ago was part of a construction study mission to Moscow. Red Blount was in it, hammer and nails, right up to the end of the month.

SO THE CONSTRUCTION UNION chiefs say they can do business with such a cabinet, and with Mr. Nixon, too.

"In fact," one of the union spokesmen said the other day while discussing the department's Bulletin, "if it had not been for having to fight George Wallace and cutting down his labor vote, some of us would have campaigned for Nixon.

"I believe the Operating Engineers and the Carpenters would have. Remember, the whole construction trades union bloc was Republican originally. We believe that Nixon is more representative of what we stand for than probably Hubert Humphrey or even Johnson. Our people are rather conservative people. We are very much impressed and pleased with the business-like way in which he has proceeded."

What does this do to labor's powerful political machine? What does this do to labor's pledge to work in the political vineyards at Hubert Humphrey's side?

Who really can tell? There are four years to go. Mr. Nixon is not yet Mr. President. But one thing is certain: now he has labor legions of his own. Who'd have thought it?

The 'Miracle' Of The Flight

What was really the big "miracle" in the voyage of the American astronauts to the moon and back? Some will say it was the 500-000 mile flight — the orbiting of the moon and the safe return.

But all this could have happened and the rest of the world would not have witnessed the dramatic arrival of the astronauts aboard an aircraft carrier in the middle of the Pacific Ocean or the pictures sent from outer space for several days if it had not been for another great feat of science—transmission of television and radio from artificial satellites direct to every continent of the world.

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE not only heard but saw the astronauts speak from the deck of the ship. During the six-day trip, moreover, pictures of the earth were transmitted direct from the capsule in which the astronauts were traveling around the moon.

It can be assumed that hundreds of millions of people watched and listened as the astronauts read from the Bible Christmas Eve from a distance of 230,000 miles away from the earth.

How was this contact accomplished? Many persons who don't follow scientific matters too closely perhaps are unaware that the United States six years ago began sending into orbit a series of satellites, two of which have been traveling 22,500 miles about the earth ever since.

Each is about the size of a big barrel. These satellites, of course, are unmanned. They have enough power to remain aloft for at least six years and are equipped with an apparatus enabling stations in America and other countries to beam signals to them for relay to a large receiving station.

The one located in the state of Washington picked up the happenings in the Pacific and put them into telephone cables for instantaneous transmission over the television networks of America.

Simultaneously, there is also one satellite above the Atlantic Ocean which receives signals tranmsitted from the United States. These are picked up by stations in several European countries with which the television networks that serve Western and Eastern Europe are connected.

This is how the Soviet television system was able to get the pictures of what took place aboard the aircraft carrier and listen to the remarks of the returning astronauts.

The devices in the satellites permit voices and moving pictures to be beamed from anywhere on or above the earth and then relayed to television stations. Within a decade, it is anticipated that it will be possible to beam the signals from a satellite direct to a television set in homes anywhere in America.

The satellite system was recently used to transmit throughout the world pictures of the Olympic games in Mexico City but the events of the last week marked the first occasion when television reception was accomplished from mid-Pacific, and the program was shown instantly around the globe. Japan and other Asian nations received it, too.

The first big inventions in the field of communication were, of course, the telegraph and telephone. Then came radio and decades later the use of a combination of all in making modern television possible.

Reception from a range of 75 to 100 miles away from the big cities in America — where the large television broadcasting centers are usually located — is virtually impossible. Lots of local stations have to be built in the surrounding areas also in order fully to reach the public.

SO IT IS CERTAINLY astonishing that a news event in the middle of an ocean now can be transmitted to an object 22,500 miles above the earth and instantly flashed by a system of relays on the ground to various parts of the world.

One wonders whether a truly miraculous use of such inventions eventually could somehow help peoples to speak to each other — to get all the news and not what dictatorships distort and give their citizens.

A sincereity of expression and recognition of mutual interest by the spokesmen in government, chosen by well-informed electorates, could lead to the establishment of peace throughout the world.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The incinerator department resumed free collection of garbage from private homes after eight months under the fee system.

Frank Fisher was elected chairman of the Board of County Commissioners and Charles McLaughlin of Wellsville was reappointed clerk.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Sheriff Howard J. Clark of Unity Township began his duties at the Courthouse in Lisbon along with three newly-appointed deputies, Albert Hartman of Lisbon, Russell VanFossan of East Palestine and Robert J. Beresford of Wellsville.

TEN YEARS AGO — Lt. Dan Cooper, a graduate of the Naval Academy, related his experiences during the crisis in Beirut, Lebanon, at a luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club.

It is safe to say the 1972 Democratic presidential sweepstakes is already under way.

Driving Progress

A lot more than safe driving went into bringing down Columbiana County's traffic toll from 39 in 1967 to 31 in 1968.

Much tribute is due naturally to the men and women and young people who successfully operated their cars without mishap.

But improved highways—such as the extension of the Route 11 which eliminated the Cannons Mills hill—contributed to the lower death rate, as did better signs and other engineering changes along with some stricter enforcement of regulations in many areas.

Consistent progress in modern traffic flow, in education of drivers to caution on the highways and in punishment of those who ignore the law should mean less bloodshed and pain on our roads in the coming year.

Letters To The Editor

A person wonders how long the people in this county will listen to the ravings of a man like Mr. Boyd. First of all the people of the home, their care, and welfare are of prime importance, yet the commissioners have failed in their duty of contracting for a physician for 3½ months. The Commissioners have the sole authority to contract for a doctor for the Home. Mr. Boyd seems to imply that it was my fault that the Doctors from the Bacon and Cibula Clinic quit the Home. If the public is interested, Dr. Bacon could easily straighten this out. Dr. Budjoso as the junior member of the Clinic was our doctor until Dr. Rankis came to Lisbon, then as the junior member of the medical profession, Dr. Rankis took over at the Home. I still feel this way, that if the Commissioners paid a decent salary, and quit creating so much adverse or notorious publicity then they might get some doctor interested. Just like Dr. Rankis, he stated that on a trip to New York that he was ribbed about our infamous Bull Story with Mr. Murray.

In respect to wages for the farm hands or anyone else working here at the Home. Those of you who work for the County or State knows full well the problem of trying to obtain a decent living wage. Part of my people could live better if they quit working and went on welfare.

Produce and meat was removed from the farm hands; this was promised returned by Mr. Boyd even though it was illegal, but then Mr. Boyd never kept the promise—this can be verified by the different hands that had worked here. Our nurses aides, who do a beautiful job, deserve more than $1.21 per hour, but if one suggests a raise, where do you get all the static from? The Commissioners office, but they were willing to increase their own wages to $9,000 per year. That would pay 3½ nurses aides wages for a year. The women that clean the Court House supposedly are making $300 plus—yet my nurses aides who would definitely be classed as semi-skilled only make $210 per month. Yet Mr. Boyd tries to convince the public that wages haven't been a problem.

Also according to the Code I have only the authority to hire and fire, the Commissioners by law establish the rate of pay.

I personally feel that I, and even the Commissioners, are very fortunate to have a crew like the one we have at the County Home. Their devotion to care of our elderly residents is marvelous.

I think it is high time that the groups of people who come to visit the Home, or people who have relatives here contact Mr. Boyd or the Board of Commissioners and tell them what they think of the care and upkeep of patients plus the Home in general.

Conservation Urged

Traveling across America, from state to state, must truly be a unique experience. A person would get the opportunity to see the tremendous beauty and splendor of America.

America at this time has its share of foreign and domestic problems, but it is still the greatest and most productive nation in the world. We, citizens of America, are all very lucky indeed, to be living in a nation which has the superior industry, fine agriculture, and ingenius scientific know how, such as America has.

These factors help make America one of the most modern nations in the world today. Also, they make for constant job opportunities which are the "back-bone" of America. This country would not be the great and prosperous nation that it is today without its abundance of natural resources. Without the management and preservation of our resources, our future generations could not possibly enjoy the comforts and conveniences that we Americans now take for granted.

Think about it! Where would most of the residents of our own city of East Liverpool be employed if it was not for the steel mills which need an abundant supply of iron ore, coal, limestone, and other resources; or for the potteries which are entirely dependent upon clay and a few other resources?

Where would the farmers of Ohio be if there was not an abundant supply of fertile soil in which to plant their crops? Every business, large or small, is dependent upon our country's resources. If we abuse these resources by poor farming methods, careless forest fires, destruction of wildlife, and polluting of water, the America of tomorrow will not have a chance.

It is the job of each American citizen to help conserve our resources whenever and wherever possible. For the average American citizen this means such things as extinguishing all outdoor fires thoroughly, never destroying natural plants or wildlife which live in our state parks, forests and woodlands, and always keeping road banks and private land well cultivated to help prevent soil erosion and to keep America green. It's your job to help keep America beautiful and prosperous!

Labor Is Going For Nixon

WASHINGTON — Richard Nixon simply does not have to depend on his membership card in the musicians union. Any time he wishes now, he can get, dues-free, into the plumbers, carpenters, laborers or operating engineers. They're all with him now. And they're saying so.

The labor movement's establishment, made up of leaders of building and construction trade unions, with a tightly unified membership of 3.8 million, say publicly and privately they're happy with President-elect Nixon, his cabinet and his "style."

Privately they now tell each other, and an occasional caller, that most of them are not at all unhappy Hubert Humphrey lost — and that the former vice president can go right ahead rebuilding the Democratic Party, but without them.

If they mean what they say, they're defecting.

One of their spokesmen was hardly shy about it all the other day. He opined that the incoming President need only call in some of the construction union chiefs and talk to them about efforts to talk local unions out of demanding huge wage increases — and they would cooperate in putting the ceiling on rising costs. There is just a law, or two, they seek and "we are ready to work with Nixon right through 1972 and for his reelection."

THIS HARDLY SOUNDS like the Building and Construction Trades Dept. (AFL-CIO) last September, but they are fond of the President-elect as they roll into the New Year.

"He'd have been justified in telling us to go to hell," says a department executive officer. "But he didn't. Yet he's named one of the best cabinets we've had."

Private conversations with the old-line building union chiefs are sonic with earthy enthusiasm for Mr. Nixon. In public, the tone is more dignified but hardly coy.

"The new group (Mr. Nixon's cabinet) bears a much closer resemblance to the Kennedy and Johnson secretaries they will replace than to the Eisenhower team from which they are theoretically descended," says the department's latest Bulletin.

"While the cabinet members certainly are not expected to follow the ideologic beliefs of Democrats, neither apparently do they represent a wrecking crew.

"Indeed, in private conversations, Mr. Nixon has stressed the need for effective administration rather than for more innovative legislation in the next few years."

The powerful construction union chiefs like this, just as they like Mr. Nixon's "style and fashion of doing things" — which are the words used in subsequent private conversations with this columnist.

DICK NIXON IS their kind of man, they say. They're upper middle class, law-and-order suburbanites. They have little in common with the avant-garde intellectuals who have had such influence in the liberal section of the Democratic Party.

The union leaders instead point to the action men in Mr. Nixon's cabinet — five of whom have worked closely with the labor movement. In addition to Chicago's George Shultz (Secretary of Labor), whose academia they are ready to forgive and forget, there are four secretaries who were literally construction workers.

It is with glee that the building union chiefs note that Secretary of Transportation John Volpe started as a hod carrier; Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George Romney began as a carpenter's helper; Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel landed in Alaska with 48 cents and went to work as a day laborer; and Postmaster General Winton (Red) Blount is one of the nation's biggest construction contractors. He's from Montgomery, but he did buck George Wallace.

Thus, there are four men who have worked closely with construction unions. Mr. Hickel has built everything from small homes to shopping centers and hotels. Gov. Volpe, still a contractor at heart, not too long ago was part of a construction study mission to Moscow. Red Blount was in it, hammer and nails, right up to the end of the month.

SO THE CONSTRUCTION UNION chiefs say they can do business with such a cabinet, and with Mr. Nixon, too.

"In fact," one of the union spokesmen said the other day while discussing the department's Bulletin, "if it had not been for having to fight George Wallace and cutting down his labor vote, some of us would have campaigned for Nixon.

"I believe the Operating Engineers and the Carpenters would have. Remember, the whole construction trades union bloc was Republican originally. We believe that Nixon is more representative of what we stand for than probably Hubert Humphrey or even Johnson. Our people are rather conservative people. We are very much impressed and pleased with the business-like way in which he has proceeded."

What does this do to labor's powerful political machine? What does this do to labor's pledge to work in the political vineyards at Hubert Humphrey's side?

Who really can tell? There are four years to go. Mr. Nixon is not yet Mr. President. But one thing is certain: now he has labor legions of his own. Who'd have thought it?

The 'Miracle' Of The Flight

What was really the big "miracle" in the voyage of the American astronauts to the moon and back? Some will say it was the 500-000 mile flight — the orbiting of the moon and the safe return.

But all this could have happened and the rest of the world would not have witnessed the dramatic arrival of the astronauts aboard an aircraft carrier in the middle of the Pacific Ocean or the pictures sent from outer space for several days if it had not been for another great feat of science—transmission of television and radio from artificial satellites direct to every continent of the world.

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE not only heard but saw the astronauts speak from the deck of the ship. During the six-day trip, moreover, pictures of the earth were transmitted direct from the capsule in which the astronauts were traveling around the moon.

It can be assumed that hundreds of millions of people watched and listened as the astronauts read from the Bible Christmas Eve from a distance of 230,000 miles away from the earth.

How was this contact accomplished? Many persons who don't follow scientific matters too closely perhaps are unaware that the United States six years ago began sending into orbit a series of satellites, two of which have been traveling 22,500 miles about the earth ever since.

Each is about the size of a big barrel. These satellites, of course, are unmanned. They have enough power to remain aloft for at least six years and are equipped with an apparatus enabling stations in America and other countries to beam signals to them for relay to a large receiving station.

The one located in the state of Washington picked up the happenings in the Pacific and put them into telephone cables for instantaneous transmission over the television networks of America.

Simultaneously, there is also one satellite above the Atlantic Ocean which receives signals tranmsitted from the United States. These are picked up by stations in several European countries with which the television networks that serve Western and Eastern Europe are connected.

This is how the Soviet television system was able to get the pictures of what took place aboard the aircraft carrier and listen to the remarks of the returning astronauts.

The devices in the satellites permit voices and moving pictures to be beamed from anywhere on or above the earth and then relayed to television stations. Within a decade, it is anticipated that it will be possible to beam the signals from a satellite direct to a television set in homes anywhere in America.

The satellite system was recently used to transmit throughout the world pictures of the Olympic games in Mexico City but the events of the last week marked the first occasion when television reception was accomplished from mid-Pacific, and the program was shown instantly around the globe. Japan and other Asian nations received it, too.

The first big inventions in the field of communication were, of course, the telegraph and telephone. Then came radio and decades later the use of a combination of all in making modern television possible.

Reception from a range of 75 to 100 miles away from the big cities in America — where the large television broadcasting centers are usually located — is virtually impossible. Lots of local stations have to be built in the surrounding areas also in order fully to reach the public.

SO IT IS CERTAINLY astonishing that a news event in the middle of an ocean now can be transmitted to an object 22,500 miles above the earth and instantly flashed by a system of relays on the ground to various parts of the world.

One wonders whether a truly miraculous use of such inventions eventually could somehow help peoples to speak to each other — to get all the news and not what dictatorships distort and give their citizens.

A sincereity of expression and recognition of mutual interest by the spokesmen in government, chosen by well-informed electorates, could lead to the establishment of peace throughout the world.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The incinerator department resumed free collection of garbage from private homes after eight months under the fee system.

Frank Fisher was elected chairman of the Board of County Commissioners and Charles McLaughlin of Wellsville was reappointed clerk.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Sheriff Howard J. Clark of Unity Township began his duties at the Courthouse in Lisbon along with three newly-appointed deputies, Albert Hartman of Lisbon, Russell VanFossan of East Palestine and Robert J. Beresford of Wellsville.

TEN YEARS AGO — Lt. Dan Cooper, a graduate of the Naval Academy, related his experiences during the crisis in Beirut, Lebanon, at a luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club.

Personalities In The News

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Helen Miller, a housewife who was described as a little overweight, started 1969 by unexpectedly giving birth to a 6-pound girl, although she said she didn't know she was pregnant.

The girl—the 36-year-old Mrs. Miller's only child—arrived at 12:47 a.m. Wednesday, shortly after Mrs. Miller and her husband left a New Year's party because she wasn't feeling well—a gall bladder attack, she thought.

"Everyone was surprised," she said at the hospital where the delivery was made, "especially my husband."

The Millers have been married for 13 years and have no other children. Miller, 37, is a postal worker.

OTTWA A(AP) — The most eligible bachelor in Canada—dapper Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau—says the new year may offer him time to take initiaties toward marriage.

In an interview Wednesday, the 49-year-old Trudeau said he was sorry he was too pushed last year to "make the kind of deal I would have liked. But never mind, this year I'll be taking initiatives."

David, grandson of former President Dwight Eisenhower, and Julie, daughter of President-elect Nixon, ended a 10-day stay in Florida, apparently relaxed and rested.

Mrs. John Eisenhower, David's mother, said the couple will go back to school soon, but she doesn't know when. He is a student at Amherst and she at Smith.

LONDON (AP) — Lord Mountbatten, 67-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth II and a former British defense chief, took up television acting Wednesday as hero of a 12-part color series about his life. It takes him back to such scenes as India and Southeast Asia, where he was allied commander in World War II.

—:—

The Britishers denounced Hochhuth's play, "Soldiers," which suggests that Churchill ordered the murder of a Polish commander, Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, in 1943.

In a letter to the London Times, the six said the play, which opened a month ago in London and depicts Churchill as a ruthless war leader who deliberately destroys women and children, is based on "a series of misrepresentations, distortions and errors of fact."

East Ohio's Gas Budget Set At $24.6 Million For 1969

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The East Ohio Gas Co. said today its capital budget for 1969 will be $24,665,000 and spending through 1972 is expected to top $100 million.

The 1969 budget is 9.2 per cent over that of 1968.

A breakdown for this year shows $17,563,000 for distribution projects; $2,928,000 for transmission work; $1,640,000 for local gas production; $1,461,000 for storage programs and $1,073,000 for general plant.

"During the next four years the company expects to adds at least 52,000 customers in its 17-county service area of northeast Ohio," the company said.

"A gain of nearly 16,000 new customers is forecast for 1969," East Ohio added. Of these, 39 per cent will be added in the Cleveland Division which includes most of Cuyahoga County and portions of Lake and Geauga Counties. Second highest gains will be made in the Akron Division where the company expects nearly 4,000 new customers.

East Ohio said over $9 million will be spent for additions to the distribution system, including main extensions for new customers, rights of way and construction of new facilities.

Largest single item in the transmission program will be $950,000 for replacement of a section of line between the Brush Station in West Richfield and Willow Station.

Most of the money allocated for production will be spent on drilling 11 wells at the Stone Creek Field in Tuscarawas County, which now has 30 producing wells.

East Ohio said it expects that over 100 wells drilled by independent operators, including many in the East Canton Field, will be connected to the East Ohio system in 1969.

Over two-thirds of the storage allocation is slated for two programs, the company added. These are drilling of 10 new storage wells in the Stark-Summit pool and installing an additional 1,500-horsepower engine driven compressor at Chippewa Station near Doylestown.

Most of the storage wells would be drilled in Summit County and "coupled with the new engine, the program would boost the natural gas storage by about 4.2 billion cubic feet annually," the company said.

An additional $188,000 is budgeted for acquisition of land, installation of new equipment, tanks, flow lines and pipelines in the Stark-Summit area.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Bow Marks P.J. Fronts

DEAR HELOISE: My husband could never tell the front of the children's pajama bottoms. Yet I didn't want him to stop getting them ready for bed.

Heloise

To show appreciation for his efforts and to help him, I sewed a bow in the girls and a button for the boys.

No trouble at all.

MRS. S. J.

It's uncomfortable to wear pants backwards, eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My electric mixer started running slowly and when I took it to my repair lady, she said it was due to flour in the motor parts.

She suggested that I put the dry ingredients in the bowl, and stir the liquid in the dry ingredients with one of the beaters, then connect it up and proceed as usual.

No fine dusty flour will get sucked into the mixer.

MRS. JESS MARBLE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: How I do wish I could swap brains and energy with you, old dear. . .

JULIA ANDREWS.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When cutting nylon net, try turning your scissors over and see how much easier that net is to cut. No catching or snagging.

MRS. A. A.

DEAR HELOISE: Being on a limited budget, yet wanting to dress my baby girl in cute dresses, I decided to sew for her.

The smallest pattern was too large for her, so I bought a baby doll clothes pattern. I enlarged it all the way around to allow for larger seams.

This particular pattern had six styles on it, so I got six outfits compared to the two or three views you normally get.

Now I'm happy. . .they fit perfectly and were so very inexpensive.

And I used the leftover material to make matching pants to wear over the waterproof ones.

SELENA GAILEY.

DEAR HELOISE: When you run out of flour, sugar, coffee or tea. . .a good way to remember to buy more is to turn the lid of that particular canister upside down.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD.

DEAR HELOISE: I solved the problem of sagging headings in my draw draperies.

I used boning (the kind that dressmakers use for strapless formals). I slipped a three-inch length of it alongside the pleat and tacked it on the wrong side.

It didn't require boning for each pleat. For double width draperies, I used two three-inch strips on each end. This held up the rest of the heading in a satisfactory manner.

JOSEPHINE MAGNUSON.

DEAR HELOISE: This morning after a sleet and snow storm, we were locked in our mobile home because both locks and knobs were frozen.

I kept my finger off the "panic button" and grabbed my hair dryer. I held the end of the hose against the lock and turned the dryer on "hot."

Personalities In The News

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Helen Miller, a housewife who was described as a little overweight, started 1969 by unexpectedly giving birth to a 6-pound girl, although she said she didn't know she was pregnant.

The girl—the 36-year-old Mrs. Miller's only child—arrived at 12:47 a.m. Wednesday, shortly after Mrs. Miller and her husband left a New Year's party because she wasn't feeling well—a gall bladder attack, she thought.

"Everyone was surprised," she said at the hospital where the delivery was made, "especially my husband."

The Millers have been married for 13 years and have no other children. Miller, 37, is a postal worker.

OTTWA A(AP) — The most eligible bachelor in Canada—dapper Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau—says the new year may offer him time to take initiaties toward marriage.

In an interview Wednesday, the 49-year-old Trudeau said he was sorry he was too pushed last year to "make the kind of deal I would have liked. But never mind, this year I'll be taking initiatives."

David, grandson of former President Dwight Eisenhower, and Julie, daughter of President-elect Nixon, ended a 10-day stay in Florida, apparently relaxed and rested.

Mrs. John Eisenhower, David's mother, said the couple will go back to school soon, but she doesn't know when. He is a student at Amherst and she at Smith.

LONDON (AP) — Lord Mountbatten, 67-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth II and a former British defense chief, took up television acting Wednesday as hero of a 12-part color series about his life. It takes him back to such scenes as India and Southeast Asia, where he was allied commander in World War II.

—:—

The Britishers denounced Hochhuth's play, "Soldiers," which suggests that Churchill ordered the murder of a Polish commander, Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, in 1943.

In a letter to the London Times, the six said the play, which opened a month ago in London and depicts Churchill as a ruthless war leader who deliberately destroys women and children, is based on "a series of misrepresentations, distortions and errors of fact."

East Ohio's Gas Budget Set At $24.6 Million For 1969

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The East Ohio Gas Co. said today its capital budget for 1969 will be $24,665,000 and spending through 1972 is expected to top $100 million.

The 1969 budget is 9.2 per cent over that of 1968.

A breakdown for this year shows $17,563,000 for distribution projects; $2,928,000 for transmission work; $1,640,000 for local gas production; $1,461,000 for storage programs and $1,073,000 for general plant.

"During the next four years the company expects to adds at least 52,000 customers in its 17-county service area of northeast Ohio," the company said.

"A gain of nearly 16,000 new customers is forecast for 1969," East Ohio added. Of these, 39 per cent will be added in the Cleveland Division which includes most of Cuyahoga County and portions of Lake and Geauga Counties. Second highest gains will be made in the Akron Division where the company expects nearly 4,000 new customers.

East Ohio said over $9 million will be spent for additions to the distribution system, including main extensions for new customers, rights of way and construction of new facilities.

Largest single item in the transmission program will be $950,000 for replacement of a section of line between the Brush Station in West Richfield and Willow Station.

Most of the money allocated for production will be spent on drilling 11 wells at the Stone Creek Field in Tuscarawas County, which now has 30 producing wells.

East Ohio said it expects that over 100 wells drilled by independent operators, including many in the East Canton Field, will be connected to the East Ohio system in 1969.

Over two-thirds of the storage allocation is slated for two programs, the company added. These are drilling of 10 new storage wells in the Stark-Summit pool and installing an additional 1,500 - horsepower engine driven compressor at Chippewa Station near Doylestown.

Most of the storage wells would be drilled in Summit County and "coupled with the new engine, the program would boost the natural gas storage by about 4.2 billion cubic feet annually," the company said.

An additional $188,000 is budgeted for acquisition of land, installation of new equipment, tanks, flow lines and pipelines in the Stark-Summit area.

Ohio Soldier Killed

CLARK, Pa. (AP)—Frank J. Obermiyer, 20, of Route 1, Brookfield, Ohio, an Army serviceman on leave, was killed Wednesday when his car crashed on the causeway of the Shenango River Reservoir.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Bow Marks P.J. Fronts

DEAR HELOISE: My husband could never tell the front of the children's pajama bottoms. Yet I didn't want him to stop getting them ready for bed.

Heloise

To show appreciation for his efforts and to help him, I sewed a bow in the girls and a button for the boys.

No trouble at all.

MRS. S. J.

It's uncomfortable to wear pants backwards, eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My electric mixer started running slowly and when I took it to my repair lady, she said it was due to flour in the motor parts.

She suggested that I put the dry ingredients in the bowl, and stir the liquid in the dry ingredients with one of the beaters, then connect it up and proceed as usual.

No fine dusty flour will get sucked into the mixer.

MRS. JESS MARBLE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: How I do wish I could swap brains and energy with you, old dear. . .

JULIA ANDREWS.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When cutting nylon net, try turning your scissors over and see how much easier that net is to cut. No catching or snagging.

MRS. A. A.

DEAR HELOISE: Being on a limited budget, yet wanting to dress my baby girl in cute dresses, I decided to sew for her.

The smallest pattern was too large for her, so I bought a baby doll clothes pattern. I enlarged it all the way around to allow for larger seams.

This particular pattern had six styles on it, so I got six outfits compared to the two or three views you normally get.

Now I'm happy. . .they fit perfectly and were so very inexpensive.

And I used the leftover material to make matching pants to wear over the waterproof ones.

SELENA GAILEY.

DEAR HELOISE: When you run out of flour, sugar, coffee or tea. . .a good way to remember to buy more is to turn the lid of that particular canister upside down.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD.

DEAR HELOISE: I solved the problem of sagging headings in my draw draperies.

I used boning (the kind that dressmakers use for strapless formals). I slipped a three-inch length of it alongside the pleat and tacked it on the wrong side.

It didn't require boning for each pleat. For double width draperies, I used two three-inch strips on each end. This held up the rest of the heading in a satisfactory manner.

JOSEPHINE MAGNUSON.

DEAR HELOISE: This morning after a sleet and snow storm, we were locked in our mobile home because both locks and knobs were frozen.

I kept my finger off the "panic button" and grabbed my hair dryer. I held the end of the hose against the lock and turned the dryer on "hot."

EVELYN PARKER.

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—William R. Taylor, 19, of Rockford drowned in the St. Marys River Wednesday after he fell through the ice while skating.

You And The Law

The judge can make decisions, enter judgments and issue various legal orders, but someone has to find the proper persons, serve the papers and, in general, carry out the court's directives. On the state level, county sheriffs do most of this work. For the United States courts, the U.S. marshal does the work.

Movies and television programs have made everyone familiar with the work of the U.S. marshal in the "old rugged days" of the West. Then, the U.S. marshal often had the job of local law enforcement now done by city police and other local agencies.

THE MARSHAL is appointed by the U. S. attorney general for a four-year term. He takes his orders from the U. S. courts and the judge of the court he serves.

Like the sheriff, the marshal has his deputies. They make arrests on federal warrants, serve papers in lawsuits in the federal courts, subpoena witnesses, summon jury men and seize property on federal court writs.

Other duties of the marshal include managing the money set aside for federal courts, paying federal judges and witness and jury fees.

HE ALSO handles the board and room of federal prisoners held in local jails. Unlike the county, the federal government has only a few local jails. Therefore, the marshal keeps prisoners awaiting trial or commitment in the county or city jails at federal expense.

For prisoners held a few hours while waiting to appear for trial or to make bond, the marshal often has a small "lockup" in his office. The marshal takes prisoners sentenced for "a year and a day" to a federal penitentiary. Those with shorter terms stay in local jails.

Stamps In The News

To honor "Tabira," its National Philatelic Exhibition in Jerusalem, the Israel Postal Department has issued a new stamp and a souvenir sheet. Featured on the stamp are the details from the Lion's Gate in Jerusalem's Old City Wall. The souvenir sheet shows the Lion's Gate in its entirety plus the new stamp. The Lion's Gate is derived from two pairs of stone lions which guard each side of the entrance.

Also issued by Israel is a new stamp dedicated to Abraham Mapu, one of the greatest Zionist novelists and historians of the 19th century. His works have been translated into many languages. The new stamp bears a portrait of Mapu, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency.

GIBRALTAR HAS celebrated the 20th anniversary of the adoption and proclamation of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the General Assembly of the United Nations, by issuing two new stamps. The lower value of 1 shilling depicts King John about to sign the Magna Carta in 1215. The 2 shillings illustrates the Rock of Gibraltar surmounted by the caption "1704-1968 Freedom." Both values bear the words "Human Rights 1968" at the top and carry the designated U.N. symbol below, together with Queen Elizabeth's profile portrait.

THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC of Germany (West Germany) has issued two new stamps, one honoring Konrad Adenauer and the other for the 82nd Catholic Day in Essen. The 30 pfennig red and black Adenauer stamp features a portrait of the late chancellor. The 20 pfennig green, yellow and violet stamp honoring Catholic Day depicts a cross, dove and ellipses which symbolize the universe, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency.

BELGIUM'S FOUR latest stamps depict scenes in its principal cities. The 2 franc shows the abbey at St. Laurent. The 3 franc illustrates the church at Lissewege. The Zandvliet Canal appears on the 6 franc. The 10 franc pictures the elevated locks at Ronquieres.

SURINAM (FORMERLY Dutch Guiana) has issued a set of two new stamps as a tribute to the World Health Organization which is celebrating its 20th anniversary. The Surinam set consists of two values with a common design featuring the WHO emblem. The 10 cent is violet and dark blue and the 25 cent is blue green and dark green.

You And The Law

The judge can make decisions, enter judgments and issue various legal orders, but someone has to find the proper persons, serve the papers and, in general, carry out the court's directives. On the state level, county sheriffs do most of this work. For the United States courts, the U.S. marshal does the work.

Movies and television programs have made everyone familiar with the work of the U.S. marshal in the "old rugged days" of the West. Then, the U.S. marshal often had the job of local law enforcement now done by city police and other local agencies.

THE MARSHAL is appointed by the U. S. attorney general for a four-year term. He takes his orders from the U. S. courts and the judge of the court he serves.

Like the sheriff, the marshal has his deputies. They make arrests on federal warrants, serve papers in lawsuits in the federal courts, subpoena witnesses, summon jury men and seize property on federal court writs.

Other duties of the marshal include managing the money set aside for federal courts, paying federal judges and witness and jury fees.

HE ALSO handles the board and room of federal prisoners held in local jails. Unlike the county, the federal government has only a few local jails. Therefore, the marshal keeps prisoners awaiting trial or commitment in the county or city jails at federal expense.

For prisoners held a few hours while waiting to appear for trial or to make bond, the marshal often has a small "lockup" in his office. The marshal takes prisoners sentenced for "a year and a day" to a federal penitentiary. Those with shorter terms stay in local jails.

Quake Shakes Arkansas; No Big Damage

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — An earthquake rattled buildings, furniture and nerves throughout Arkansas Wednesday, but apparently caused no injuries and no major damage.

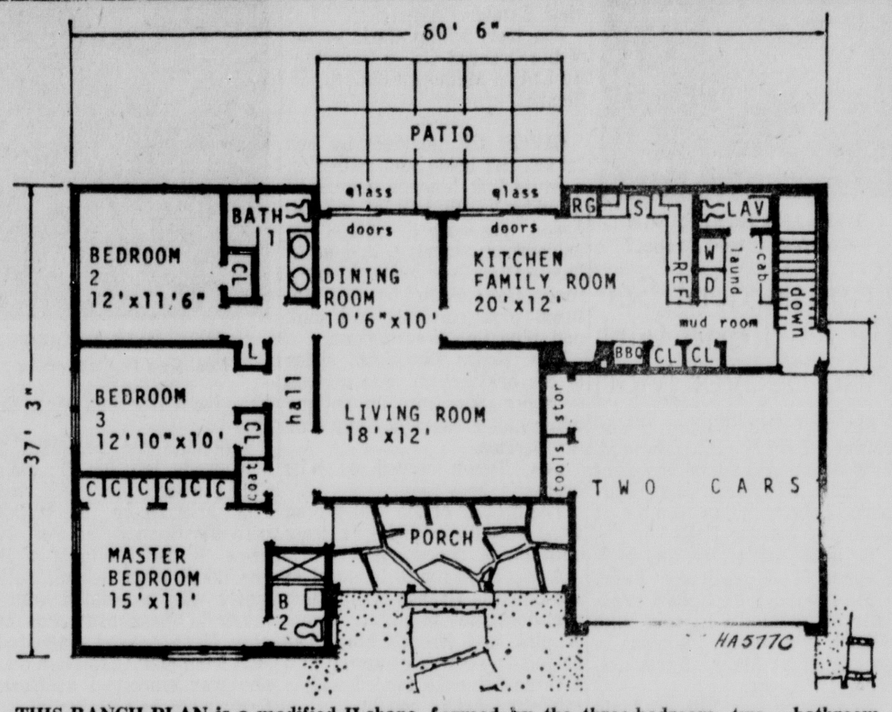

State police said the tremor cracked walls and floors, and there were reports that dishes were broken, but authorities found no major damage.

The shock frightened thousands of Arkansans, who swamped police and newsmesands of Arkansans, who swamped police and news media with telephone calls. Estimates of the duration of the tremor ranged from five to 40 seconds.

"It felt like a train running across my house," said Joe Caldwell of Benton.

Only portions of south and southwest Arkansas apparently escaped the shock, which extended into southern Missouri. Residents of West Plains, Mo., near the northern Arkansas border reported two shocks—one at 6:38 p.m., EST, and the other about two minutes later.

THIS RANCH PLAN is a modified H-shape, formed by the three-bedroom, two - bathroom wing on one side and the garage, family room, kitchen, utility wing on the other side. It's indented at the back by the patio and at the front by a porch. The living area is 1,275 square feet. Plan HA577C was designed by architect Lester Cohen, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York, N. Nixon Getting Physical Test In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President-elect Nixon gets his first thorough physical examination in 14 months today. A spokesman described it as a routine checkup.

Nixon is seeing Dr. John Lungren of Long Beach, his longtime personal physician, for an examination expected to last about 2½ hours. Lungren traveled with the President - elect during the campaign and said then the candidate's health was excellent.

Press assistant Ronald L. Ziegler said the visit to Lungren was routine. He said Nixon has such a checkup about once a year.

Nixon was to drop in later at a luncheon honoring Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch of California, who is to be his secretary of health, education and welfare.

Tonight, the President-elect and his wife will go to Anaheim for what is billed as a welcome home to his native Orange County. That is being held at the arena of the Anaheim Convention Center, and it apparently will amount to a testimonial rally.

Football fan Nixon went to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena Wednesday, watched Ohio State University defeat the University of Southern California, and said both were great teams.

"A great game," Nixon said. He said USC mistakes—a rash of second-half fumbles and interceptions—made the difference.

The score: Ohio State 27, USC 16. "They were a little better, just a little, a little stronger in the line," Nixon said of Ohio State's Buckeyes.

But Nixon maintained his neutrality. "I'm happy because Ohio State is happy," he said. "I'm sad because Southern California is sad."

Nixon had a football analyst at his side, former Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson, a friend and political ally. Their wives sat beside them.

At halftime, as Nixon and his party walked across the field from the Ohio State to the Southern California stands, Mrs. Nixon posed for photographs with the Rose Bowl queen.

"Two queens," Nixon said, smiling.

He traveled to and from the Rose Bowl by Marine helicopter, landing on a golf course beside the stadium. Back at the Century Plaza Hotel, he stopped to chat about the game with firemen on duty for his landing, and said an 80-yard touchdown run by Southern California's O.J. Simpson was a classic.

Later, the Nixons, the Wilkinsons and Finch had dinner at a Japanese restaurant in the hotel.

Republicans Are Revising Foreign Aid

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican congressmen are drawing up a drastically revised foreign aid program, shaped along lines suggested by President-elect Nixon and his advisers, The New York Times reported today.

In a story from its Washington bureau, the Times said that the program, subject to revisions by a special committee to be named by Nixon after his inauguration, would include these main features:

—More emphasis on technical assistance programs, especially in such fields as agriculture, health and education, to give developing nations the benefit of modern technology.

—De-emphasis on large capital outlays and more multilateral arrangements between the United States and other donor countries in which the latter would be expected to supply more funds than in the past.

—A greater role for U.S. private enterprise capital through expansion of the present investment guarantee program. That program insures investors in developing countries against loss from revolution, expropriation and other causes.

Quake Shakes Arkansas; No Big Damage

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — An earthquake rattled buildings, furniture and nerves throughout Arkansas Wednesday, but apparently caused no injuries and no major damage.

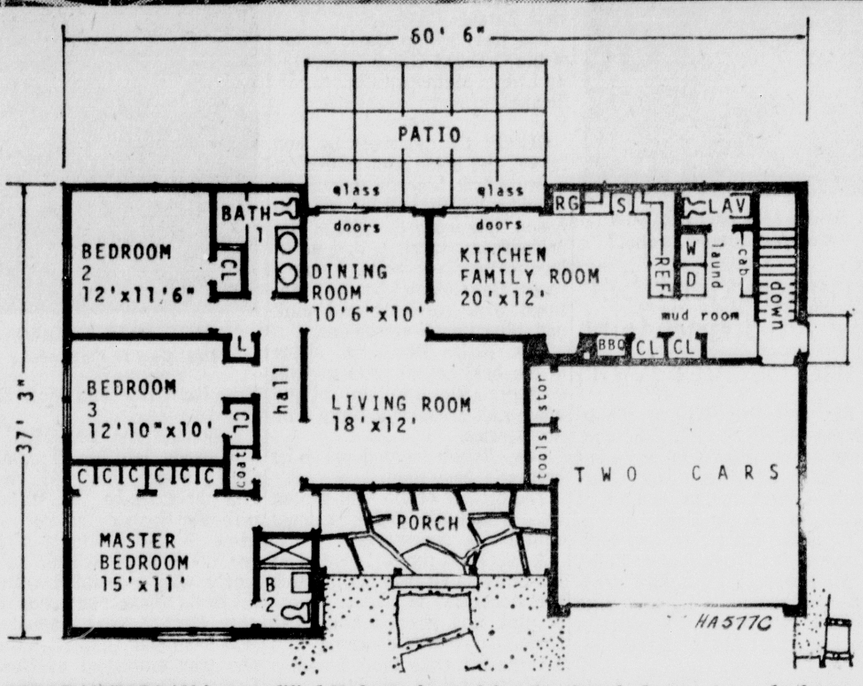

State police said the tremor cracked walls and floors, and there were reports that dishes were broken, but authorities found no major damage.

The shock frightened thousands of Arkansans, who swamped police and newsmesands of Arkansans, who swamped police and news media with telephone calls. Estimates of the duration of the tremor ranged from five to 40 seconds.

"It felt like a train running across my house," said Joe Caldwell of Benton.

Only portions of south and southwest Arkansas apparently escaped the shock, which extended into southern Missouri. Residents of West Plains, Mo., near the northern Arkansas border reported two shocks—one at 6:38 p.m., EST, and the other about two minutes later.

Nixon Getting Physical Test In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President-elect Nixon gets his first thorough physical examination in 14 months today. A spokesman described it as a routine checkup.

Nixon is seeing Dr. John Lungren of Long Beach, his longtime personal physician, for an examination expected to last about 2½ hours. Lungren traveled with the President - elect during the campaign and said then the candidate's health was excellent.

Press assistant Ronald L. Ziegler said the visit to Lungren was routine. He said Nixon has such a checkup about once a year.

Nixon was to drop in later at a luncheon honoring Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch of California, who is to be his secretary of health, education and welfare.

Tonight, the President-elect and his wife will go to Anaheim for what is billed as a welcome home to his native Orange County. That is being held at the arena of the Anaheim Convention Center, and it apparently will amount to a testimonial rally.

Football fan Nixon went to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena Wednesday, watched Ohio State University defeat the University of Southern California, and said both were great teams.

"A great game," Nixon said. He said USC mistakes—a rash of second-half fumbles and interceptions—made the difference.

The score: Ohio State 27, USC 16. "They were a little better, just a little, a little stronger in the line," Nixon said of Ohio State's Buckeyes.

But Nixon maintained his neutrality. "I'm happy because Ohio State is happy," he said. "I'm sad because Southern California is sad."

Nixon had a football analyst at his side, former Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson, a friend and political ally. Their wives sat beside them.

At halftime, as Nixon and his party walked across the field from the Ohio State to the Southern California stands, Mrs. Nixon posed for photographs with the Rose Bowl queen.

"Two queens," Nixon said, smiling.

He traveled to and from the Rose Bowl by Marine helicopter, landing on a golf course beside the stadium. Back at the Century Plaza Hotel, he stopped to chat about the game with firemen on duty for his landing, and said an 80-yard touchdown run by Southern California's O.J. Simpson was a classic.

Later, the Nixons, the Wilkinsons and Finch had dinner at a Japanese restaurant in the hotel.

Republicans Are Revising Foreign Aid

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican congressmen are drawing up a drastically revised foreign aid program, shaped along lines suggested by President-elect Nixon and his advisers, The New York Times reported today.

In a story from its Washington bureau, the Times said that the program, subject to revisions by a special committee to be named by Nixon after his inauguration, would include these main features:

—More emphasis on technical assistance programs, especially in such fields as agriculture, health and education, to give developing nations the benefit of modern technology.

—De-emphasis on large capital outlays and more multilateral arrangements between the United States and other donor countries in which the latter would be expected to supply more funds than in the past.

—A greater role for U.S. private enterprise capital through expansion of the present investment guarantee program. That program insures investors in developing countries against loss from revolution, expropriation and other causes.

'Happy' Year Seen By Man Turned 100

He was born on a farm near Elkton in 1868, a son of the late Aaron Armstrong and Salome Martin Armstrong. He attended the former Dutchtown School, east of Elkton, and entered Mount Hope Academy in 1887-88. Mr. Armstrong later attended Mount Union College. He received a degree from Mount Hope, which had then become a college.

Teaching school to help finance his education, he served as principal at the Fairfield School and later at the Negley School when it was first built.

After a year's stay in Oregon, Mr. Armstrong returned to marry the former Emily Whittendale of Leetonia. They resided for 15 years in the state of Washington.

During the early part of World War I, Mr. Armstrong obtained a job with a steel company at Seattle and within a year became secretary of the local union. At the end of the war, he returned to enter the orchard business with a brother, Robert Armstrong, who owned a farm south of Lisbon.

The two operated a fruit market on the site of the present City Hall on W. 6th St. for three years. They later sold the business and Mr. Armstrong turned to dairy farming, retiring about 30 years ago at which time he moved to East Liverpool to be nearer two of his four daughters — Mrs. Helen Huston of Route 30, Mrs. Walter Coie of near Lisbon, and Mrs. Bessie Bunger of Ellensburg and Mrs. Mary Jane Messenger of Pacific Grove, Calif.

27 Weary Peak Climbers Awaiting Weather Forecast

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — A group of weary climbers huddled just below timberline on 13,766-foot Grand Teton Peak today, awaiting a weather forecast which could determine if they will abandon the climb.

For three days the 27-member party headed by Paul Petzoldt has been within sight of the summit but each attempt to reach it has been beaten back by winds.

Petzoldt asked rangers to radio him a weather report today at which time the future of the climb will be decided.

Tuesday, four of the climbers reached a hut 2,100 feet below the summit. But the winds returned Wednesday and they were forced to leave the hut and take refuge in the party's base camp at Moose Meadows, just below timberline.

Petzoldt told national park rangers by radio Wednesday night the men decided not to attempt the final stretch to the peak "because conditions were impossible."

A second eight-man party on the mountain was heard from Wednesday night after a two-day silence. The climbers, led by Geoge Lowe, 24, of Salt Lake City, radioed saying they were well. Lowe's party set out Monday to climb the East Ridge, a granite slab never before attempted in winter.

Petzoldt had chosen a much easier route for his party, the route he used in 1936 when he made the last winter ascent of the peak. This is the fourth consecutive year the 60-year-old Petzoldt had attempted to climb the mountain. Each time the elements have won.

The forecast radioed to Petzoldt Wednesday night called for winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour and a drop of 10 to 15 degrees in the temperatures, already below zero.

Fire Claims 3 In Family At Wheeling

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — A mother and two of her four children were killed late Wednesday night when a fire thought to have started on a Christmas tree destroyed their home.

Mrs. Sarah McCruder, 44, and her son, David, 11, and daughter, Patty, 6, were trapped on the second floor of the two-story frame house, firemen said.

Earl McCruder, 45, and the couple's other two children, Carolyn, 19, and Richard, 15, leaped from a second-story window to safety. The window was about 30 feet off the ground.

McCruder suffered a broken pelvis and broken elbows in the leap, while Carolyn suffered fractures of both ankles and Richard suffered fractures of both wrists.

McCruder told firemen the lights were turned on on the family's Christmas tree, which he said was dry. He said the fire started on the tree.

Stamps In The News

The designs for Eire's latest definitive set of postage stamps were the result of an international competition with artists from Ireland and other countries throughout the world participating. The winner was Heinrich Gerl of Munich, West Germany, and his interesting drawings appear on the new stamps.

The half pence to 6 pence values show a dog in stylized form from a decoration of an ancient Irish brooch. The 7 pence to 1 shilling 5 pence values depict a stag inspired by an Irish art decoration which can be traced to a suspended bowl, now in the British Museum. The 2 shilling 6 pence and 5 pence values illustrate the winged ox, symbol of St. Luke the Evangelist, based on a sketch in the Gospel Book of Lichfield in Lichfield Cathedral. The 10 shilling bears the eagle symbol of St. John the Evangelist, taken from an ancient Irish manuscript.

Collectors in this country desiring information and costs of first-day covers may write directly to Irish Cachet Covers, 947 E. 32nd St., Brooklyn, N.Y. 11210.

TO HONOR THE 1968 Wheelchair Olympics — the 17th Stoke - Mandeville Games —Israel has issued a new stamp, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America.

The games for the paralyzed were originally set up in the hospital for paralytics at Stoke - Mandeville in Britain in 1948. Coinciding in years with the International Olympics, the Wheelchair Games were held from 1952 to 1960 in England but in 1960 and 1964 they were conducted alongside the Olympics.

This year, however, the Mexican government announced it could not host the Wheelchair Olympics and Israel immediately offered its services to handle the games. The site of the games is the Ilard Sports center and the Municipal Stadium in Ramat Gan. Visitors representing 30 nations participate. Competition for wheelchair athletes is in basketball, swimming, fencing, weightlifting, table tennis, bowling, snooker and archery.

The 1 shilling 6 pence has the equestrian figure of Allan Wilson of the Shangani Patrol as it appears on the frieze of the memorial in the Matopos Hills, near Bulawayo.

Taylor Receives Recognition For College Activity

Thomas H. Taylor, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor of East Liverpool RD, was lauded for his leadership, scholarship and citizenship in the college paper, The Bakersfield Californian.

Taylor, who was graduated in 1960 from Beaver Local High School, recently was named the outstanding male freshman at the college and was presented the Sheldon Karsnow Award by the Bakersfield Junior Chamber of Commerce. The award cites the abilities of the recipient as well as contributions made to the student body.

The article pointed out it was "impressive" that Thomas, a Navy veteran who spent two and a half years of his four-year hitch in active duty at the China Lake Navy Weapons Center, was ambitious enough to decide to take full advantage of the GI Bill of Rights. He is the first student-body president at the college from the Indian Wells Valley.

Searchers said the ravine was so overgrown with brush that a helicopter circling the area for days did not spot the body of the petite, blue-eyed girl, aspiring to be an artist.

Marina's body was still clad in the brown slacks and fur-trimmed coat she wore when she left to visit John Hornburg, 22, a family friend, in the Brentwood section of Los Angeles Sunday night.

Sheriff's Lt. White said the girl had been dead since early Monday morning.

Hornburg said he and Marina met two other couples at a night club on Santa Monica Boulevard about 8:30 Sunday night. They returned to his home about 11:30, and Marina left by herself about 3:15 a.m. She was headed home—usually a 20-minute drive.

The girl's mother, an actress who last appeared in the film "Games", said she heard noises outside at about 3:30 a.m. She heard a loud auto muffler and saw a man about 20 years old standing next to her daughter's small foreign car in the driveway.

Suddenly, Miss Hadt said she saw a black sedan back out of the driveway. It stopped and the man climbed into the passenger side shouting something like: "Let's go," the mother said.

A search was begun, and relatives said they suspected the girl might have been kidnaped.

Marina's parents were divorced more than 10 years ago and the mother is remarried. The girl lived with her mother until after she was graduated from Los Angeles High School last May. She was home on Christmas vacation from the University of Hawaii.

The girl's father was reported en route from Zurich.

Habe, 57, was a prominent newsman before he became a novelist. He is a former editor in chief of De Morgen, a Vienna newspaper, and covered the League of Nations from 1936 to 1939.

He has written 18 novels, including "The Countess" and "The Mission."

Marina was described by her friends as "very quiet." They said she planned on a career as an artist. Investigators said she was "apparently a well adjusted girl . . . well thought of by her friends."

Card Seen Hoax Asking Rhodes In Baseball Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A card carrying the words "Baseball Needs Jim Rhodes for Commissioner" and signed "Rhodes for Baseball Committee, John W. Brown, chairman," was being circulated in Columbus today.

'Happy' Year Seen By Man Turned 100

He was born on a farm near Elkton in 1868, a son of the late Aaron Armstrong and Salome Martin Armstrong. He attended the former Dutchtown School, east of Elkton, and entered Mount Hope Academy in 1887-88. Mr. Armstrong later attended Mount Union College. He received a degree from Mount Hope, which had then become a college.

Teaching school to help finance his education, he served as principal at the Fairfield School and later at the Negley School when it was first built.

After a year's stay in Oregon, Mr. Armstrong returned to marry the former Emily Whittendale of Leetonia. They resided for 15 years in the state of Washington.

During the early part of World War I, Mr. Armstrong obtained a job with a steel company at Seattle and within a year became secretary of the local union. At the end of the war, he returned to enter the orchard business with a brother, Robert Armstrong, who owned a farm south of Lisbon.

The two operated a fruit market on the site of the present City Hall on W. 6th St. for three years. They later sold the business and Mr. Armstrong turned to dairy farming, retiring about 30 years ago at which time he moved to East Liverpool to be nearer two of his four daughters — Mrs. Helen Huston of Route 30, Mrs. Walter Coie of near Lisbon, and Mrs. Bessie Bunger of Ellensburg and Mrs. Mary Jane Messenger of Pacific Grove, Calif.

27 Weary Peak Climbers Awaiting Weather Forecast

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — A group of weary climbers huddled just below timberline on 13,766-foot Grand Teton Peak today, awaiting a weather forecast which could determine if they will abandon the climb.

For three days the 27-member party headed by Paul Petzoldt has been within sight of the summit but each attempt to reach it has been beaten back by winds.

Petzoldt asked rangers to radio him a weather report today at which time the future of the climb will be decided.

Tuesday, four of the climbers reached a hut 2,100 feet below the summit. But the winds returned Wednesday and they were forced to leave the hut and take refuge in the party's base camp at Moose Meadows, just below timberline.

Petzoldt told national park rangers by radio Wednesday night the men decided not to attempt the final stretch to the peak "because conditions were impossible."

A second eight-man party on the mountain was heard from Wednesday night after a two-day silence. The climbers, led by Geoge Lowe, 24, of Salt Lake City, radioed saying they were well. Lowe's party set out Monday to climb the East Ridge, a granite slab never before attempted in winter.

Petzoldt had chosen a much easier route for his party, the route he used in 1936 when he made the last winter ascent of the peak. This is the fourth consecutive year the 60-year-old Petzoldt had attempted to climb the mountain. Each time the elements have won.

The forecast radioed to Petzoldt Wednesday night called for winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour and a drop of 10 to 15 degrees in the temperatures, already below zero.

Fire Claims 3 In Family At Wheeling

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — A mother and two of her four children were killed late Wednesday night when a fire thought to have started on a Christmas tree destroyed their home.

Mrs. Sarah McCruder, 44, and her son, David, 11, and daughter, Patty, 6, were trapped on the second floor of the two-story frame house, firemen said.

Earl McCruder, 45, and the couple's other two children, Carolyn, 19, and Richard, 15, leaped from a second-story window to safety. The window was about 30 feet off the ground.

McCruder suffered a broken pelvis and broken elbows in the leap, while Carolyn suffered fractures of both ankles and Richard suffered fractures of both wrists.

McCruder told firemen the lights were turned on on the family's Christmas tree, which he said was dry. He said the fire started on the tree.

Stamps In The News

The designs for Eire's latest definitive set of postage stamps were the result of an international competition with artists from Ireland and other countries throughout the world participating. The winner was Heinrich Gerl of Munich, West Germany, and his interesting drawings appear on the new stamps.

The half pence to 6 pence values show a dog in stylized form from a decoration of an ancient Irish brooch. The 7 pence to 1 shilling 5 pence values depict a stag inspired by an Irish art decoration which can be traced to a suspended bowl, now in the British Museum. The 2 shilling 6 pence and 5 pence values illustrate the winged ox, symbol of St. Luke the Evangelist, based on a sketch in the Gospel Book of Lichfield in Lichfield Cathedral. The 10 shilling bears the eagle symbol of St. John the Evangelist, taken from an ancient Irish manuscript.

Collectors in this country desiring information and costs of first-day covers may write directly to Irish Cachet Covers, 947 E. 32nd St., Brooklyn, N.Y. 11210.

TO HONOR THE 1968 Wheelchair Olympics — the 17th Stoke - Mandeville Games —Israel has issued a new stamp, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America.

The games for the paralyzed were originally set up in the hospital for paralytics at Stoke - Mandeville in Britain in 1948. Coinciding in years with the International Olympics, the Wheelchair Games were held from 1952 to 1960 in England but in 1960 and 1964 they were conducted alongside the Olympics.

This year, however, the Mexican government announced it could not host the Wheelchair Olympics and Israel immediately offered its services to handle the games. The site of the games, is the Ilard Sports center and the Municipal Stadium in Ramat Gan. Visitors representing 30 nations participate. Competition for wheelchair athletes is in basketball, swimming, fencing, weightlifting, table tennis, bowling, snooker and archery.

The 3 pence shows the raising of the British South Africa Co. flag. The 9 pence depicts the Bulawayo coat of arms and a view of the modern city. The 1 shilling 6 pence has the equestrian figure of Allan Wilson of the Shangani Patrol as it appears on the frieze of the memorial in the Matopos Hills, near Bulawayo.

Taylor Receives Recognition For College Activity

Thomas H. Taylor, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor of East Liverpool RD, was lauded for his leadership, scholarship and citizenship in the college paper, The Bakersfield Californian.

Taylor, who was graduated in 1960 from Beaver Local High School, recently was named the outstanding male freshman at the college and was presented the Sheldon Karsnow Award by the Bakersfield Junior Chamber of Commerce. The award cites the abilities of the recipient as well as contributions made to the student body.

The article pointed out it was "impressive" that Thomas, a Navy veteran who spent two and a half years of his four-year hitch in active duty at the China Lake Navy Weapons Center, was ambitious enough to decide to take full advantage of the GI Bill of Rights. He is the first student-body president at the college from the Indian Wells Valley.

Searchers said the ravine was so overgrown with brush that a helicopter circling the area for days did not spot the body of the petite, blue-eyed girl, aspiring to be an artist.

Marina's body was still clad in the brown slacks and fur-trimmed coat she wore when she left to visit John Hornburg, 22, a family friend, in the Brentwood section of Los Angeles Sunday night.

Sheriff's Lt. White said the girl had been dead since early Monday morning.

Hornburg said he and Marina met two other couples at a night club on Santa Monica Boulevard about 8:30 Sunday night. They returned to his home about 11:30, and Marina left by herself about 3:15 a.m. She was headed home—usually a 20-minute drive.

The girl's mother, an actress who last appeared in the film "Games", said she heard noises outside at about 3:30 a.m. She heard a loud auto muffler and saw a man about 20 years old standing next to her daughter's small foreign car in the driveway.

Suddenly, Miss Hadt said she saw a black sedan back out of the driveway. It stopped and the man climbed into the passenger side shouting something like: "Let's go," the mother said.

A search was begun, and relatives said they suspected the girl might have been kidnaped.

Marina's parents were divorced more than 10 years ago and the mother is remarried. The girl lived with her mother until after she was graduated from Los Angeles High School last May. She was home on Christmas vacation from the University of Hawaii.

The girl's father was reported en route from Zurich.

He has written 18 novels, including "The Countess" and "The Mission."

Marina was described by her friends as "very quiet." They said she planned on a career as an artist. Investigators said she was "apparently a well adjusted girl . . . well thought of by her friends."

Holiday Crashes

3 Suffer Injury As Car Hits Pole

Three were injured when an auto crashed into a utility pole Wednesday at 3:32 p. m. on the River Rd. near Walnut St.—one of six holiday mishaps investigated by East Liverpool police.

A 1961 four-door sedan operated by Beauford Joyce, 50, of 931 Fairview St. struck an Ohio Power Co. pole about 50 feet east of Walnut St., officers said.

In addition to the driver, the injured were Mrs. Virginia D. Joyce, 50, his wife, and Mrs. Ruth Mosley, 65, of 1024 St. George St., another passenger. Each suffered multiple facial lacerations and possible fractured ribs, officers said. They were taken to City Hospital by ambulance.

Joyce was listed as "satisfactory" with lacerations of the forehead and chest injuries, Mrs. Joyce "fair" with severe lacerations of the forehead and right arm and Mrs. Mosley, "guarded" with severe lacerations of the face and forehead.

Patrolmen Dwight Garvey and James Woods discovered the mishap while on routine cruiser patrol. They said all three of the injured were in the front seat of the auto. None of the three could remember how the accident occurred, officers said. There was no evidence of skid marks near the scene.

A MECHANICAL fault in an auto may have caused a mishap in which a car plunged off Dresden Ave. on a curve Wednesday morning and hit the porch of a home and a parked auto.

The 1968 car driven by Walter V. Landis, 28, of 507 E. 4th St. went off the roadway on a curve in the 900 block of Dresden Ave. It climbed an embankment and hit a porch at the home of Mrs. Emma Felton of 916 Dresden Ave. and came to a halt against a parked 1968 model car owned by Mary I. Beatty of 909 Dresden Ave. Damage was termed "minor" to the two autos and the porch.

Landis told officers he was inbound at about 35 miles an hour when he felt "something give" and the car veered off to the left. Officers said the right front ball joint may have broken, throwing the car out of control.

TWO collisions occurred on Dresden Ave. early Wednesday. The first, at 2:15 a.m., involved a 1965 convertible driven by Albert J. Howell, 24, of 327 Broadway and a 1963 auto operated by Ralph Buchman of 233 W. 9th St. Howell was driving south on Dresden Ave. and Buckman was pulling onto the thoroughfare from Rural Ln., officers said.

The second Dresden Ave. mishap took place at the junction with W. 7th St. at 5:33 a.m. Wednesday..

It involved a 1964 sedan driven by Jon W. Pilgrim, 21, of 169 Pennsylvania Ave. and a 1965 sedan operated by Harry A. Mehaffey, 31, of New Cumberland Route 2.

Pilgrim was driving south on Dresden and Mehaffey was pulling onto the thoroughfare from W. 7th St., officers said.

A mishap in Rigby Alley at E. 9th St. Wednesday at 8:24 p. m. involved a 1968 two-door driven by Jerry F. Crossen, 55, of 897 St. Clair Ave. and a parked four-door sedan owned by James Allen Montgomery of 733 Rigby St. Crossen told police he was backing from the alley onto E. 9th St. and his car slid, striking the parked auto.

A mishap at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts. at 3:44 a.m. Wednesday involved a 1968 car driven by Gary L. Carson, 26, of Chester, and a 1967 auto operated by John R. Crawford, 21, of 414 Grant St., Newell. There was damage to the rear of the Carson car and the front of the Crawford auto.

Five area residents were injured in falls Wednesday.

Two were admitted to City Hospital and three were treated and released.

In another emergency, Mrs. Harvey Larkins of 211 W. 7th St. suffered burns of the hands and face when a gas stove "blew out" at her.

Ralph Martin, son of Joan Martin of 420 Jefferson St., Newell, is "fair" today with a possible concussion suffered in a fall down stairs at home.

Meat Cutter Kills Wife, Three Others And Self

WESTERNVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Ralph MacLachlan, a meat cutter who shot and killed his estranged wife and three other persons in a Wednesday night rampage, put a bullet through his head today as officers closed in, police reported.

Mrs. MacLachlan, 33, was shot as she and members of her family sat in their home in this central New York village. Her sister, Mrs. Jane Turke Ringrose, 35, and Mrs. Ringrose's 12-year-old daughter, Barbara, were killed at the same time. The other four occupants of the house were wounded before MacLachlan left.

Police said he then ran to the next-door home of Mrs. James Pepper, apparently to try to get the Pepper automobile. Mrs. Pepper's 10-year-old son, James Jr., was fatally wounded.

Mrs. Pepper was critically wounded, as were three other persons. Mrs. Pepper was shot in the head and spine.

Two other of her children saved their lives by hiding in a closet.

Early today the blue jeep was spotted by state troopers Dominick DePaola Jr., and Thomas Buck and they gave chase. MacLachlan fired three shots through the windshield of the troopers' automobile, then retreated inside a tractor sales house in the hamlet of Remsen, 10 miles east of Westernville.

DePaola and Buck were reinforced and volleys of shots were exchanged before MacLachlan shot himself to death.

No motive was established immediately, but officers said MacLachlan and his wife had been separated for about two weeks. MacLachlan, 37, was a 6-foot-2 outdoorsman. He worked in Oneida, N.Y.

An alert went out for his arrest shortly after the shootings, which happened after 10 p.m.

A young girl called Oneida County Sheriff's Deputy James Campbell at 10:24 p.m. Wednesday and screamed: "Three people have been shot and I'm going to be shot next."

Campbell said: "I don't know what happened. She let out a scream and that was the last I heard."

Mrs. Pepper and the other wounded were taken to Rome-Murphy Memorial Hospital.

Cynthia Ringrose, 11, Robert Ringrose, 36, and Perry Turke, 68, also were in critical condition.

Turke's 62-year-old wife, like the rest of the injured, was shot more than once. She, however, was not listed as critical.

The officers involved in the Remsen shootout said MacLachlan never uttered a word.

Near blizzard conditions had hampered the search, which was concentrated in a 20-mile radius north of Westerville in one of New York state's snow belt areas. Roadblocks had been thrown up for miles. There were only three roads into Remsen, however, and the hamlet has a state police station.

The search area was marked by roads made almost impassable by the 14-inches of snow that fell since Tuesday. Police vehicles found the going tough and state troopers took to snowmobiles—small snow-going vehicles normally used by winter sportsmen—to search the hundreds of empty hunting cabins and summer homes in the area.

In Westerville, which has no police force of its own, the residents, about 1,000, were in a state approaching panic. Word of the slayings spread quickly. Most residents were awake, with lights out. Many who owned guns got them out.

"I'm not going outside," one resident told a telephone caller. "I've got my gun here and I'm not going outside until daybreak. Everybody in town is up and everybody is scared, scared to death."

The father of the dead boy, James Pepper, died three years ago of a heart attack. Mrs. Milton Pepper, grandmother of the boy, said her husband had suffered a heart attack last year and had not been told of the tragedy. She said she would call a doctor before telling him of what happened. "It's going to kill my husband," Mrs. Pepper said. "It's going to kill him."

Mrs. MacLachlan's body was found in the snow about 20 feet from the house of her parents. The body of Mrs. Ringrose was in the living room of the house and that of Barbara Ringrose was in another room.

Plane Carrying 26 Hunted In Mexico

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP) — A search is under way for a chartered Mexican DC3 missing since Tuesday with 22 passengers and four crew members aboard.

Airport authorities at Tampico said the plane was carrying employes of the Mexican government oil monopoly, Petroleos Mexicanos, from Reynosa to a New Year's holiday in Tampico. Radio communication with the aircraft was lost shortly after it took off from Reynosa, on the U.S. border opposite McAllen, Tex.

Bad weather and low clouds hampered the search until Wednesday afternoon.

Questioning Continues Of Pueblo Crew

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Navy intelligence officers continue today their questioning of the Pueblo's 82 crewmen back from spending New Year's Day with their families and watching football. It was their first liberty since they returned from 11 months of North Korean imprisonment.

Nineteen members of the crew spent the day in Pasadena, watching the annual Rose Bowl game. They were the guests of one of the crewmen's family, who asked to remain anonymous.

The Pueblo's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, was confined to his hospital room to recover from mental and physical exhaustion, but his wife Rose came out of the room to wish the hospital staff a happy New Year from her husband.

102 Aboard Greek Plane In Hijacking

ATHENS (AP) — An Olympic Airways DC6 with 102 persons aboard was reported hijacked by two Arab gunmen today, and a spokesman for the Greek airline said it had landed in Cairo.

The plane was on a flight from Iraklion, Crete, to Athens.

Ioannis Georgakis, chairman of the airline told newsmen he was flying to Cairo "to find out the reasons why the plane went there."

A source at Athens airport said the hijacking was the work of two Arab gunmen.

There was speculation that they were trying to force the Greek government to release the two Arab terrorists who shot up an Israeli airliner at Athens airport last Thursday and killed an Israeli passenger.

America's First Automat Victim Of Modern Times

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — America's first Automat, which served breakfast, lunch, dinner and a mess of nickel coffee breaks to some 50 million customers in 66 years, is a victim of modern times.

Horn and Hardart Baking Co. opened the original coin-operated restaurant in 1902 to provide clean and fast food service. It folded last weekend because it was a museum piece, inefficient and slow, in a computerized world.

"We took this step most reluctantly from the standpoint of nostalgia," said Nelson G. Harris, the new H&H president. "We have to be realistic. The Automat in its existing form meets the requirements of this space age about as well as a Model T alongside the Apollo 8."

At the peak of its popularity, before and after World War II, the business, founded in 1888 by Joseph V. Horn and Frank Hardart operated 32 Automats. Now there are two left in Philadelphia, and eight in New York City.

"They are not really automatic," said Harris. "And definitely uneconomical to maintain and staff."

Fresh food must be placed into the slotted compartments by people behind the equipment. Customers open the glass display doors to get at the items they want by dropping in coins and twisting knobs.

The original Automat, its mechanical equipment imported from Germany, was a tourist attraction, situated as it was two blocks from historic Independence Hall.

It was used years ago as a setting for movies. Songs were written about it, and it was the butt of many jokes.

Comedian Jimmy Durante got big laughs when he said, "I put a slug in a slot at the Automat and what do you think came out?—the manager."

Ferrall Again Will Head Wellsville School Board

Ferrall, who previously had announced that he would retire when his present term ended, reconsidered at the request of the other board members.

Miss Mary Jenkins, a retired teacher and a present member of the board, was named vice president. The bond of Raymond Rolley, clerk, was approved for three years.

PRIOR TO the reorganization, year-end business was completed.

The reappointment of Mrs. Eunice Huston to the Carnegie Library Board for a seven-year term was approved.

Temporary appropriations of $205,000 to the general fund and $9,000 to the cafeteria fund and money for the Title I and Title II programs were authorized.

The clerk was authorized to make necessary fund transfers to balance accounts for 1968.

Rolley, also purchasing agent for the school district, reported that a truck with a snowplow could be obtained for $1,650 and pointed out that a snowplow alone would cost approximately $700.

MEMBERS approved the purchase of the truck-plow, pointing out it would prove useful at the Hillcrest - Fairview School and on the sidewalks of the five other schools.

Donald Lowe, superintendent of schools, reported 107 have signed up for the driver education program and recommended that the $5 fee be retained to help curb the dropout problem. The $5 would be refunded to those completing the course.

The board again voted to meet the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium office.

Charles Glass was unable to attend last night's meeting.

WESTERNVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Ralph MacLachlan, a meat cutter who shot and killed his estranged wife and three other persons in a Wednesday night rampage, put a bullet through his head today as officers closed in, police reported.

Mrs. MacLachlan, 33, was shot as she and members of her family sat in their home in this central New York village. Her sister, Mrs. Jane Turke Ringrose, 35, and Mrs. Ringrose's 12-year-old daughter, Barbara, were killed at the same time. The other four occupants of the house were wounded before MacLachlan left.

Police said he then ran to the next-door home of Mrs. James Pepper, apparently to try to get the Pepper automobile. Mrs. Pepper's 10-year-old son, James Jr., was fatally wounded.

Mrs. Pepper was critically wounded, as were three other persons. Mrs. Pepper was shot in the head and spine.

Two other of her children saved their lives by hiding in a closet.

Early today the blue jeep was spotted by state troopers Dominick DePaola Jr., and Thomas Buck and they gave chase. MacLachlan fired three shots through the windshield of the troopers' automobile, then retreated inside a tractor sales house in the hamlet of Remsen, 10 miles east of Westernville.

DePaola and Buck were reinforced and volleys of shots were exchanged before MacLachlan shot himself to death.

No motive was established immediately, but officers said MacLachlan and his wife had been separated for about two weeks. MacLachlan, 37, was a 6-foot-2 outdoorsman. He worked in Oneida, N.Y.

An alert went out for his arrest shortly after the shootings, which happened after 10 p.m.

A young girl called Oneida County Sheriff's Deputy James Campbell at 10:24 p.m. Wednesday and screamed: "Three people have been shot and I'm going to be shot next."

Campbell said: "I don't know what happened. She let out a scream and that was the last I heard."

Mrs. Pepper and the other wounded were taken to Rome-Murphy Memorial Hospital.

Cynthia Ringrose, 11, Robert Ringrose, 36, and Perry Turke, 68, also were in critical condition.

Turke's 62-year-old wife, like the rest of the injured, was shot more than once. She, however, was not listed as critical.

The officers involved in the Remsen shootout said MacLachlan never uttered a word.

Near blizzard conditions had hampered the search, which was concentrated in a 20-mile radius north of Westerville in one of New York state's snow belt areas. Roadblocks had been thrown up for miles. There were only three roads into Remsen, however, and the hamlet has a state police station.

The search area was marked by roads made almost impassable by the 14-inches of snow that fell since Tuesday. Police vehicles found the going tough and state troopers took to snowmobiles—small snow-going vehicles normally used by winter sportsmen—to search the hundreds of empty hunting cabins and summer homes in the area.

In Westerville, which has no police force of its own, the residents, about 1,000, were in a state approaching panic. Word of the slayings spread quickly. Most residents were awake, with lights out. Many who owned guns got them out.

"I'm not going outside," one resident told a telephone caller. "I've got my gun here and I'm not going outside until daybreak. Everybody in town is up and everybody is scared, scared to death."

The father of the dead boy, James Pepper, died three years ago of a heart attack. Mrs. Milton Pepper, grandmother of the boy, said her husband had suffered a heart attack last year and had not been told of the tragedy. She said she would call a doctor before telling him of what happened. "It's going to kill my husband," Mrs. Pepper said. "It's going to kill him."

Mrs. MacLachlan's body was found in the snow about 20 feet from the house of her parents. The body of Mrs. Ringrose was in the living room of the house and that of Barbara Ringrose was in another room.

Plane Carrying 26 Hunted In Mexico

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP) — A search is under way for a chartered Mexican DC3 missing since Tuesday with 22 passengers and four crew members aboard.

Airport authorities at Tampico said the plane was carrying employes of the Mexican government oil monopoly, Petroleos Mexicanos, from Reynosa to a New Year's holiday in Tampico. Radio communication with the aircraft was lost shortly after it took off from Reynosa, on the U.S. border opposite McAllen, Tex.

Bad weather and low clouds hampered the search until Wednesday afternoon.

Questioning Continues Of Pueblo Crew

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Navy intelligence officers continue today their questioning of the Pueblo's 82 crewmen back from spending New Year's Day with their families and watching football. It was their first liberty since they returned from 11 months of North Korean imprisonment.

Nineteen members of the crew spent the day in Pasadena, watching the annual Rose Bowl game. They were the guests of one of the crewmen's family, who asked to remain anonymous.

The Pueblo's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, was confined to his hospital room to recover from mental and physical exhaustion, but his wife Rose came out of the room to wish the hospital staff a happy New Year from her husband.

102 Aboard Greek Plane In Hijacking

ATHENS (AP) — An Olympic Airways DC6 with 102 persons aboard was reported hijacked by two Arab gunmen today, and a spokesman for the Greek airline said it had landed in Cairo.

Ioannis Georgakis, chairman of the airline told newsmen he was flying to Cairo "to find out the reasons why the plane went there."

A source at Athens airport said the hijacking was the work of two Arab gunmen.

There was speculation that they were trying to force the Greek government to release the two Arab terrorists who shot up an Israeli airliner at Athens airport last Thursday and killed an Israeli passenger.

America's First Automat Victim Of Modern Times

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — America's first Automat, which served breakfast, lunch, dinner and a mess of nickel coffee breaks to some 50 million customers in 66 years, is a victim of modern times.

Horn and Hardart Baking Co. opened the original coin-operated restaurant in 1902 to provide clean and fast food service. It folded last weekend because it was a museum piece, inefficient and slow, in a computerized world.

"We took this step most reluctantly from the standpoint of nostalgia," said Nelson G. Harris, the new H&H president. "We have to be realistic. The Automat in its existing form meets the requirements of this space age about as well as a Model T alongside the Apollo 8."

At the peak of its popularity, before and after World War II, the business, founded in 1888 by Joseph V. Horn and Frank Hardart operated 32 Automats. Now there are two left in Philadelphia, and eight in New York City.

"They are not really automatic," said Harris. "And definitely uneconomical to maintain and staff."

Fresh food must be placed into the slotted compartments by people behind the equipment. Customers open the glass display doors to get at the items they want by dropping in coins and twisting knobs.

The original Automat, its mechanical equipment imported from Germany, was a tourist attraction, situated as it was two blocks from historic Independence Hall.

It was used years ago as a setting for movies. Songs were written about it, and it was the butt of many jokes.

Comedian Jimmy Durante got big laughs when he said, "I put a slug in a slot at the Automat and what do you think came out?—the manager."

Stock Market Starts '69 With A 'Crackling' Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market started 1969 with a crackling rally. Prices were substantially higher early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.3 at 358.6 with industrials up 3.2, rails up .2 and utilities up .2.

Gains of fractions to 1 or 2 points predominated in the list.

The market rose from the start and, without the benefit of any particular news. Brokers saw the market as responding to normal reinvestment demand and to the absence of tax-loss selling which was carried on right to the closing day of the 1968 market.

The market was deeply oversold in September, some analysts said, and a technical rally was to be expected even if the market sags later because of uncertainties over high interest exchanges returned to a full five-day week, although trading hours were shortened to four hours from the previous five and a half. The absence of a mid week closing day will lend continuity to markets, many brokers believe, and eliminate one factor of uncertainty.

Del E. Webb, up 1, climbed to the top of the most active list, helped by a string of big blocks. A company official said he saw no reason for the strength in the stock.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Two Workers Killed In Oil Tank Explosion

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP) — Two workers were killed in the explosion of an oil storage tank today.

The blast at the 12,000 gallon crude oil tank of the Quaker State Oil Refining Corp. blew the bodies of the two men about 300 feet into the air.

The name of the second victim was not immediately known.

The tank is in a wooded valley along Pennsylvania 428 north of Oil City. The bodies were found on opposite sides of a creek about 500 feet from the tank.

Jim Foor, 19, a southpaw pitcher from St. Louis who was Detroit's No. 1 man in the June, 1967 free agent draft, will get a chance to make the Tiger pitching staff next spring. He won four of five decisions with Montgomery, Ala., last season.

GOP Outspent Democrats In Television Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans outspent the Democrats, $5 million to $3 million, in unprecedented use of television during the 1968 presidential election campaign, the Federal Communications Commission reported today.

The FCC said the GOP spent some $4.2 million on TV during the campaign and another $1 million during primary contests while the Democrats put $2.5 million into video in the final campaigning and $516,030 during the primaries.

Political groupings identified only as "other", but presumably covering mainly the campaign of former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, spent $681,491 to buy television time for the presidential campaign.

Altogether, the networks reported the parties paid $8.9 million for air time—more than twice the $4.1 million spent for this purpose in the 1964 campaign.

The FCC said presidential and vice presidential candidates spent a total of 96 hours, 11 minutes on the air, but it gave no breakdown on the TV time of each candidate.

Castro Declares Nixon 'Can't Intimidate Us'

MIAMI (AP) — Fidel Castro told a huge crowd observing the 10th anniversary of his advent to power in Havana today that "Nixon cannot intimidate us."

The prime minister's broadcast and telecast speech, in the Plaza of the Revolution, was monitored in Miami.

Referring to the U.S. president-elect, Castro said: "Today there is a new tenant in the White House. He has spoken of Cuba in threatening and aggressive terms."

The unsuccessful 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion was on Cuba's Giron Beach.

"Senor Nixon cannot intimidate us," Castro declared. "We are stronger than we were 10 years ago."

Stock Market Starts '69 With A 'Crackling' Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market started 1969 with a crackling rally. Prices were substantially higher early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.3 at 358.6 with industrials up 3.2, rails up .2 and utilities up .2.

Gains of fractions to 1 or 2 points predominated in the list.

The market rose from the start and, without the benefit of any particular news. Brokers saw the market as responding to normal reinvestment demand and to the absence of tax-loss selling which was carried on right to the closing day of the 1968 market.

The market was deeply oversold in September, some analysts said, and a technical rally was to be expected even if the market sags later because of uncertainties over high interest exchanges returned to a full five-day week, although trading hours were shortened to four hours from the previous five and a half. The absence of a mid week closing day will lend continuity to markets, many brokers believe, and eliminate one factor of uncertainty.

Del E. Webb, up 1, climbed to the top of the most active list, helped by a string of big blocks. A company official said he saw no reason for the strength in the stock.

Steels, motors, aerospace issues, and tobaccos were among the strongest groups.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Two Workers Killed In Oil Tank Explosion

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP) — Two workers were killed in the explosion of an oil storage tank today.

The blast at the 12,000 gallon crude oil tank of the Quaker State Oil Refining Corp. blew the bodies of the two men about 300 feet into the air.

The name of the second victim was not immediately known.

The tank is in a wooded valley along Pennsylvania 428 north of Oil City. The bodies were found on opposite sides of a creek about 500 feet from the tank.

Jim Foor, 19, a southpaw pitcher from St. Louis who was Detroit's No. 1 man in the June, 1967 free agent draft, will get a chance to make the Tiger pitching staff next spring. He won four of five decisions with Montgomery, Ala., last season.

GOP Outspent Democrats In Television Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans outspent the Democrats, $5 million to $3 million, in unprecedented use of television during the 1968 presidential election campaign, the Federal Communications Commission reported today.

The FCC said the GOP spent some $4.2 million on TV during the campaign and another $1 million during primary contests while the Democrats put $2.5 million into video in the final campaigning and $516,030 during the primaries.

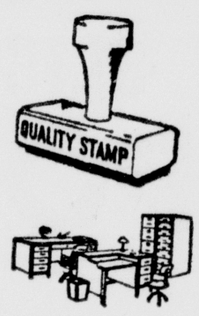

Political groupings identified only as "other", but presumably covering mainly the campaign of former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, spent $681,491 to buy television time for the presidential campaign.

Altogether, the networks reported the parties paid $8.9 million for air time—more than twice the $4.1 million spent for this purpose in the 1964 campaign.

The FCC said presidential and vice presidential candidates spent a total of 96 hours, 11 minutes on the air, but it gave no breakdown on the TV time of each candidate.

Castro Declares Nixon 'Can't Intimidate Us'

MIAMI (AP) — Fidel Castro told a huge crowd observing the 10th anniversary of his advent to power in Havana today that "Nixon cannot intimidate us."

The prime minister's broadcast and telecast speech, in the Plaza of the Revolution, was monitored in Miami.

Referring to the U.S. president-elect, Castro said: "Today there is a new tenant in the White House. He has spoken of Cuba in threatening and aggressive terms."

The unsuccessful 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion was on Cuba's Giron Beach.

"Senor Nixon cannot intimidate us," Castro declared. "We are stronger than we were 10 years ago."

First Anniversary Of Operation

Heart Transplant Patient Blaiberg Set Celebration

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the longest surviving heart transplant patient, planned a dinner party tonight to celebrate the first anniversary of his operation.

"I feel even better than I did years before the operation," said the chubby, mustached 59-year-old dentist who received a new lease on life when Dr. Christiaan Barnard's transplant team gave him a new heart at Groote Schuur Hospital last Jan. 2.

Barnard was invited to the anniversary dinner.

Blaiberg said he took a glass of wine Wednesday, his first since the operation.

"On that score you're behind me," Blaiberg was told by the Rev. Charles Boulogne the French Dominican monk who is No. 2 in length of survival for heart transplant patients. "I've been drinking for a long time now."

The two men talked briefly in a Paris-Cape Town telephone hookup arranged by a French radio station. Boulogne received his new heart last May 12.

Except for a crisis that almost required a second heart transplant and kept him in the hospital 118 days last summer, Blaiberg has led a fairly normal life.

He drives his own car, goes swimming, attends shows, receives visiting celebrities and several times a week has friends to tea at his apartment.

However, he still walks with a slight limp and has to follow a strict regimen, including 10 minutes taking medicines four times a day. He has a medical checkup twice a week but no special attention.

Blaiberg was given the heart of Clive Haupt, a 24-year-old mulatto factory worker who had died of a brain hemorrrhage. Blaiberg went home from the hospital on March 16, 74 days after the operation. He was back in the hospital May 24 with a liver complaint that was diagnosed as hepatitis.

Lung complications set in, and by July 6 Barnard had decided to perform a second heart transplant. On that day, Blaiberg recalls in his book "Looking at My Heart," he told his wife Eileen: "You know as well as I do that this is the end of the road."

BARTON MACLANE, 66, veteran character actor who played the "bad guy" in more than 150 movies and numerous television shows, died Wednesday of double pneumonia. During his 33 - year acting career he appeared in such films as "Treasure of Sierra Madre" and "San Quentin."

Ruling Ends Long Strike At Crescent

NEW CUMBERLAND — A decision by the National Labor Relations Board apparently has ended a strike at the Crescent Brick Co., one of the longest labor disputes in district history.

A spokesman for the firm, which had been struck since Sept. 1, 1964, said the NLRB ruled United Brick & Clay Workers Union Local 476 AFL-CIO no longer represents a majority of the employes of the brick plant and clay mines here.

The strike began when 43 members of the union sought a new labor contract. Many negotiating sessions took place in 1964 and 1965 without success.

The plant resumed partial operations in June 1965, but only a few of the strikers returned, and permanent replacements were hired for others. In 1967, the firm obtained NLRB permission to conduct an election, claiming the work force was not represented by the union.

Results of the balloting were challenged and hearings were held by the NLRB on the eligibility of 54 votes. After further hearings, the NLRB ruled in December the challenged votes cast by the strikers, even if eligible to vote, were not sufficient in number to affect the results of the election, and certified the union is no longer the bargaining agent for the employes.

7 Persons Perish In Canadian Blaze

MONTREAL (AP) — A 36-year-old woman, five of her eight children and a niece perished early today in a fire that swept a three-story wooden tenement building in south-central Montreal.

Dead are Therese Beaudoin; two of her sons, Jacques, 7, and Gilles, 3; three daughters, Sylvie, 6, and Ginette and Renee, 5-year-old twins; and a visiting niece whose identity was being withheld by police pending notification of her next of kin in Sherbrooke, 90-miles east of here.

Pope Names Whealon As New Archbishop

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has named the Most Rev. John F. Whealon as new archbishop of Hartford, Conn., the Vatican announced today.

Archbishop Whealon has been bishop of Erie, Pa. He was born in Barberton, Ohio, Jan. 15, 1921. He was ordained a priest May 26, 1945. He has been bishop of Erie since Dec. 9, 1966.

Only about 200 of the brighter stars have been named.

Year Was Also Cooler

1968 Weather Showed Rainfall Below Normal

Temperatures last year averaged 47.8 degrees, compared with the normal 48.6, he said.

Rainfall amounted to 34.32 inches, below the normal 37, Copeland said, adding that the rain statistics did not apply to the whole county, since, as the result of scattered storms, some districts received normal or above normal precipitation.

THE COLDEST day of the year was Jan. 8, when the mercury dipped to a minus 16. The hottest reading was 95 on Aug. 23-24.

There were 13 nights of below-zero readings — January had eight, February three and December two. February was the coldest month with an average temperature of 19.6 degrees. July and August shared honors for heat with average temperatures of 70.

There were 12 days of above 90 degrees — June had two, July three and August seven.

February was the driest month, with only 0.92 inches of rain. May was the wettest with 6.01.

The normal annual snowfall is 30 inches, but 1968 had only 23.5, Copeland said.

January had eight inches, February and March five inches each and December 5.5 inches.

COPELAND declared last week's rainfall put water tables in good condition, with all springs flowing well, reminding him of the old farm belief that winter doesn't set in until the water sources are replenished.

All grains planted in the fall appear to be in good condition, he added.

In December, temperatures were below normal, with the average 28.3 degrees compared with the customary 29.5 degrees.

The high for the month was a 58 on Dec. 28 and the low was a minus 6 Dec. 10. There were two nights of below-zero readings.

Rainfall amounted to 3.84 inches, well above the normal 2.54 inches for the month.

There were 22 cloudy days, 6 partly cloudy days and 3 clear days, for a sunshine average of 20 per cent, compared with the normal 30 per cent.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Some 280 employes of Penzoil United Co. in West Virginia continued a two-day-old statewide strike today with union officials predicting a long seige.

Chester Adams, president of the Penzoil Employes Federation, said the strike is the first in the 30-year history of the company.

First Anniversary Of Operation

Heart Transplant Patient Blaiberg Set Celebration

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the longest surviving heart transplant patient, planned a dinner party tonight to celebrate the first anniversary of his operation.

"I feel even better than I did years before the operation," said the chubby, mustached 59-year-old dentist who received a new lease on life when Dr. Christiaan Barnard's transplant team gave him a new heart at Groote Schuur Hospital last Jan. 2.

Barnard was invited to the anniversary dinner.

Blaiberg said he took a glass of wine Wednesday, his first since the operation.

"On that score you're behind me," Blaiberg was told by the Rev. Charles Boulogne the French Dominican monk who is No. 2 in length of survival for heart transplant patients. "I've been drinking for a long time now."

The two men talked briefly in a Paris-Cape Town telephone hookup arranged by a French radio station. Boulogne received his new heart last May 12.

Except for a crisis that almost required a second heart transplant and kept him in the hospital 118 days last summer, Blaiberg has led a fairly normal life.

He drives his own car, goes swimming, attends shows, receives visiting celebrities and several times a week has friends to tea at his apartment.

However, he still walks with a slight limp and has to follow a strict regimen, including 10 minutes taking medicines four times a day. He has a medical checkup twice a week but no special attention.

Blaiberg was given the heart of Clive Haupt, a 24-year-old mulatto factory worker who had died of a brain hemorrrhage. Blaiberg went home from the hospital on March 16, 74 days after the operation. He was back in the hospital May 24 with a liver complaint that was diagnosed as hepatitis.

Lung complications set in, and by July 6 Barnard had decided to perform a second heart transplant. On that day, Blaiberg recalls in his book "Looking at My Heart," he told his wife Eileen: "You know as well as I do that this is the end of the road."

BARTON MACLANE, 66, veteran character actor who played the "bad guy" in more than 150 movies and numerous television shows, died Wednesday of double pneumonia. During his 33 - year acting career he appeared in such films as "Treasure of Sierra Madre" and "San Quentin."

Ruling Ends Long Strike At Crescent

NEW CUMBERLAND — A decision by the National Labor Relations Board apparently has ended a strike at the Crescent Brick Co., one of the longest labor disputes in district history.

A spokesman for the firm, which had been struck since Sept. 1, 1964, said the NLRB ruled United Brick & Clay Workers Union Local 476 AFL-CIO no longer represents a majority of the employes of the brick plant and clay mines here.

The strike began when 43 members of the union sought a new labor contract. Many negotiating sessions took place in 1964 and 1965 without success.

The plant resumed partial operations in June 1965, but only a few of the strikers returned, and permanent replacements were hired for others. In 1967, the firm obtained NLRB permission to conduct an election, claiming the work force was not represented by the union.

Results of the balloting were challenged and hearings were held by the NLRB on the eligibility of 54 votes. After further hearings, the NLRB ruled in December the challenged votes cast by the strikers, even if eligible to vote, were not sufficient in number to affect the results of the election, and certified the union is no longer the bargaining agent for the employes.

7 Persons Perish In Canadian Blaze

MONTREAL (AP) — A 36-year-old woman, five of her eight children and a niece perished early today in a fire that swept a three-story wooden tenement building in south-central Montreal.

Dead are Therese Beaudoin; two of her sons, Jacques, 7, and Gilles, 3; three daughters, Sylvie, 6, and Ginette and Renee, 5-year-old twins; and a visiting niece whose identity was being withheld by police pending notification of her next of kin in Sherbrooke, 90-miles east of here.

Pope Names Whealon As New Archbishop

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has named the Most Rev. John F. Whealon as new archbishop of Hartford, Conn., the Vatican announced today.

Archbishop Whealon has been bishop of Erie, Pa. He was born in Barberton, Ohio, Jan. 15, 1921. He was ordained a priest May 26, 1945. He has been bishop of Erie since Dec. 9, 1966.

Only about 200 of the brighter stars have been named.

Year Was Also Cooler

1968 Weather Showed Rainfall Below Normal

Temperatures last year averaged 47.8 degrees, compared with the normal 48.6, he said.

Rainfall amounted to 34.32 inches, below the normal 37, Copeland said, adding that the rain statistics did not apply to the whole county, since, as the result of scattered storms, some districts received normal or above normal precipitation.

THE COLDEST day of the year was Jan. 8, when the mercury dipped to a minus 16. The hottest reading was 95 on Aug. 23-24.

There were 13 nights of below-zero readings — January had eight, February three and December two. February was the coldest month with an average temperature of 19.6 degrees. July and August shared honors for heat with average temperatures of 70.

There were 12 days of above 90 degrees — June had two, July three and August seven.

February was the driest month, with only 0.92 inches of rain. May was the wettest with 6.01.

The normal annual snowfall is 30 inches, but 1968 had only 23.5, Copeland said.

January had eight inches, February and March five inches each and December 5.5 inches.

Will All Be Fine In '69?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Will everything be fine in 1969?

Our annual peek into the clouded crystal ball of the future doesn't permit us to be unyieldingly affirmative. But, on the other hand, we can't be altogether negative.

The biggest question is what will happen to money. For years the value of money has been eroding and the value of credit has increased. As our gallop into inflation gains headway many of our more serious minds may be faced with a crisis of decision: Whether to give up on money as a lost cause and depend totally upon credit, which is more fun anyway.

The moon will become a vexing problem to geographers. Soviet Russia will put five cosmonauts and a poet in lunar orbit. The cosmonauts will methodically rename every crater named by the three American astronauts. The poet will return with the first ode to the proletariat composed in true moonglow. Its title, translated into English, will be: "What Is the Working Man without Moonshine?"

The United Nations will continue its relentless war against malaria throughout the world but turn its back upon a more dangerous disease—the uncurbed spread of pandemic political malarkey.

Elsewhere on the international front these things will occur:

In Britain, Queen Elizabeth will calm a parliamentary crisis over the traffic problem by suggesting that, while the rest of the world drives on the right side of the road and Britons traditionally on the left side, in the future everyone should be free to drive down the middle of the road.

In France, Gen. Charles de Gaulle will succumb to his physician's advice and buy a pair of bifocal glasses. His first remark upon peering through them: "Eh, bien la, mon cosmos."

Here in America, look for these possibilities:

Lyndon B. Johnson will become our leading political sage in exile. He will turn down offers to become a columnist for both the New York Times and Ramparts magazine.

President Nixon will appoint new committees to find new solutions for old problems that Former President Johnson appointed earlier committees to solve. They will report back unanimously: "Something ought to be done sometime by somebody about everything."

The cost of living will go up and the joy in living stay about the same. Everyone over 40 will ask himself the age-old middle-aged question, "When does the fun begin?"

In a revolutionary experiment financed by the Ford and Carnegie foundations, teen-agers will launch an experimental university with themselves as faculty. Anyone over 65 will be able to attend tuition free.

Science will develop a birth control pill for men. Most men will immediately decide this is more than they'll swallow.

News oddity of the year: An obscure cow in Iowa will deliver five live calves. The U.S. Department of Agriculture will hail her as "bovine mother of the year" and send her, the proud father and their small herd on a tax-paid round trip to Hawaii.

As to the weather:

Snow in widespread areas in January, intermittent sunshine and rain east and west of the Mississippi River from April to November.

Summary:

All in all, a year the human race can put up with but one in which most will inescapably become 365 days older.

Cold Weather Slows Firemen At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cold weather continues to hamper firemen concerning an estimated $80,000 blaze at a warehouse here — they cannot determine its origin until ice on the building thaws.

Firemen hosed down smoldering remains Wednesday of the American Compressed Steel Corp. warehouse on Cincinnati's riverfront.

The building was destroyed as firemen battled near zero temperatures Tuesday night to save it, but firemen managed to prevent it from spreading to several nearby warehouses, including the adjoining City Haul, Inc.

Fire Chief Bert Lugannani said Wednesday that damage to the building itself would be $60,000, and $20,000 to its contents. Larry A. Beyer, secretary-treasurer of the firm, gave a preliminary estimate of $100,000.

Lugannani said the fire which started on the last day of the year would hike the city's fire loss total for 1968 to about $3.5, making it second in Cincinnati's history only to a total loss of $4 million in 1967.

Liquor Permit OK'd, Another Considered

One liquor permit was issued in Columbiana County and application has been made by an East Liverpool man for a C-1 permit, the Ohio Department of Liquor Control has announced at Columbus.

A D-3A permit, which allows the holder to remain open until 2:30 a.m., was issued to Robert James and Harold W. Neil of Bob's Country Tavern in Unity Township near East Palestine.

James R. Pillar of Pillar's Gulf Service, 1120 Pennsylvania Ave., has applied for a C-1 permit, 3.2 beer carry-out.

OSU Wins Award

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Ohio State University won an award Wednesday for its float in the Rose Bowl Parade. Also winning awards for floats representing educational institutions were the University of Southern California and Pasadena College.

GAO Reports On Detroit Setup

Discrepancies Uncovered In Anti-Poverty Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators have discovered that hundreds of high school graduates—and even some college students—have collected government paychecks under Detroit antipoverty programs set up to provide jobs and training for high school dropouts.

In a report to Congress, the General Accounting Office cited this as one of "a number of discrepancies" it found in examining Neighborhood Youth Corps programs in Detroit, where slums were scarred by a major riot in 1967.

The 82-page report also disclosed that:

—Inadequate screening allowed some youths to receive federal assistance even though their families did not meet the antipoverty program's low-income criteria.

—Antipoverty officials made little or no attempt to follow up on the progress of youths who completed training, and thus had no way to gauge the programs' effectiveness.

—Sponsoring organizations indirectly used federal funds to help pay the local share of the programs' cost, and local sponsors paid only half their required 10 per cent.

—The "weaknesses cited went undetected for months because federal officials assigned to insure compliance with antipoverty program requirements "were performing very little monitoring of the NYC sponsor activities in Detroit.

The Associated Press reported last April 10 that GAO investigators were delving into operations of the poverty fighting efforts in Detroit, one of two cities in the nation whose central antipoverty agency is an arm of city government rather than an independent nonprofit corporation. The other is Chicago.

The GAO report centered on 16 neighborhood Youth Corps programs sponsored in fiscal 1966 and 1967 by one of three organizations—the Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development, the city Board of Education and the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit. More than half the $15.7 million in federal funds involved went to the first group, headed by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

The 16 projects fell into three categories. One type was set up to give 30 hours of work and 10 hours of training each week to "school dropouts and a limited number of high school students." The second was designed to give part-time jobs of 8 to 15 hours a week to "young people who because of economic reasons are potential school dropouts." The third was intended to give summer jobs to disadvantaged youths. In each category, the enrollees were paid at least $1.25 an hour.

In its report, the GAO questioned the eligibility of more than half the 2,592 enrollees in an out-of-school program sponsored by the mayor's committee.

It said an examination of the files of 794 participants showed that 263—or nearly one third—were high school graduates. Only six of the 263 files contained the required "written justification" for allowing the graduates to receive federal paychecks.

"The review indicated that about 15 enrollees (in the program for dropouts) were attending college or were planning to attend in the fall . . ." the report said. It said still another spot check turned up a dozen more enrollees who "had expressed an interest in or were attending college."

This occurred, the report said, in a city where 7,000 students dropped out of school in a single year. It added: "We believe that the comparison of the significant number of school dropouts who are potential enrollees for the out-of-school program, with the large percentage of high school graduates who have been accepted into the out-of-school program in Detroit, indicates the need for the MCHRD (Mayor's Committee) to direct its recruiting efforts to school dropouts and the limited number of high school graduates which the program is designed to benefit."

Other spot checks raised questions about the eligibility of a third of the enrollees on the ground that their families were not in the low-income category.

Local sponsors, the GAO said, should conduct "more careful screening of youths prior to their enrollment." And it said the Detroit office of the Bureau toring" of the Detroit programs. (BWTP) an arm of the Labor Department, should undertake "effective and continuous monitoring" of the Detroit programs.

"We found a number of weaknesses in the operations of the sponsors in Detroit . . . which we believe could have been detected and corrected earlier through better monitoring by BWTP," investigators said.

The Labor Department, in a departure from a general rule had allowed local sponsors to use funds supplied by other federal agencies to hire personnel for job training projects, the report said. Salaries of these employes, although partially paid by the federal government, were considered part of the local sponsors' contribution. Thus, the GAO said, the Detroit sponsors actually contributed only 5 per cent toward the projects' total cost instead of the required minimum of 10 per cent.

"We are taking no action concerning past violations of the principles involved," the report said. "However, the Secretary of Labor should take the necessary steps to ensure . . . that sponsors will not claim, as part of their required 10-per cent share, costs which have been reimbursed to them under other federal grant programs."

Truck Driver Fined $15 On Patrol Charge

Rodney E. Gilkinson, 23, of 629½ Dresden Ave. was fined $15 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge of failure to display traffic warning devices after his coal - laden semi-trailer rig became disabled with a broken axle Dec. 21 on the Westfield Rd.

Gilkinson was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol, which reported he did not display flares and other safety equipment required by law to warn oncoming traffic.

Meanwhile, the court dismissed an affidavit in which Ronald D. Adkins of 933 St. George St., a soldier on leave from Ft. Knox, was charged with operating an unsafe car. Adkins was cited Wednesday at 11:30 p.m. on Dresden Ave.

The Guernsey breed of dairy cow, which was imported into the United States in 1818 from the islands of Guernsey and Alderney, weighs about 1,100 pounds.

Democrat Urges Remedy In Ohio Election Laws

CINCINNATI (AP)—A local Democratic leader believes Ohio's election laws—especially regarding primaries—should be remedied quickly to end their "present state of uncertainty."

Sidney Weil Jr., co-chairman of the Hamilton County Democratic party, made proposals in a letter to Secretary of State Ted Brown including switching the primary from May to August.

Weil said his suggestions would help bring state laws into conformity with a 1968 U.S. Supreme Court decision covering the presidential candidacy of George Wallace who criticized Ohio's election laws.

The high court termed Ohio's law on formation of political parties "burdensome."

In line with the primary change, Weil proposed a filing date switch from February to June 1.

"This alteration of dates (filing and primary) would give all groups a reasonable chance to organize and propose candidates," Weil said, and added it would also reduce length and expense of campaigns.

Weil also suggested that the number of registered voters signatures needed to get a new party on the ballot be reduced from 15 to five per cent of the votes cast at the preceding gubernatorial election.

Requisitions Required On All City Purchases

Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger sent a letter today to city department heads declaring that requisitions issued by the auditor's office will be required in the future for all purchases.

The rule will allow better bookkeeping controls and assure against overdrawing departmental appropriations, Zollinger's letter said. In the past, supplies were purchastd and expended before the requisition reached the auditor's office, he said, adding that "such practices defeat the purpose of the rquisition."

Merchants should be certain they do not furnish material to any city employe unless he presents a properly - signed requisition, Zollinger said.

Zollinger said the rule on requisitions will be waived in a real emergency.

Backers Claim Vote Margin

McCormack Seen Holding Post As House Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of John W. McCormack claim more than enough votes to assure the Massachusetts congressman of retaining his job of speaker of the House.

McCormack, however, despite stating in advance of today's Democratic House caucus that "I am not worried," apparently was not shrugging off the late-blooming challenge to his seven-year reign by Arizona's Morris K. Udall.

The DSG, which claims 140 liberal-moderate members, wants a louder voice in shaping party policies, a more definite work schedule with fixed holiday periods, and less emphasis on seniority in determining key assignments.

Neither Udall, elected for the fifth time the past November, nor his backers were optimistic, hoping just for a "respectable showing" on which to build.

McCormack counts a solid base of 90 votes from the South. But his lieutenants, busy counting noses since Udall made his challenge last week, claim 180 pledged votes. This is far more than the 122 needed.

Selection of a nominee for speaker by the Democrats virtually assures election by the whole Hosse when the 91st Congress convenes Friday since the Democrats hold a 243-192 majority and voting on the Speaker traditionally follows party lines.

Nevertheless, as the Democrats are caucasing, the Republicans will be meeting, too, to nominate Michigan's Gerald R. Ford for speaker.

Ford, unopposed in the GOP caucus, will revert to minority leader should McCormack win expected re-election Friday.

The McCormack-Udall contest matches in interest—and probable outcome—a battle for the No. 2 Democratic spot in the Senate.

Although there is far less at stake immediately in the Senate, a bid by Massachusetts' Edward M. Kennedy to grab the whip job from Louisiana's Russell B. Long is regarded as a first step by Kennedy toward a possible 1972 run for the White House.

The test will come at the Senate Democratic caucus Friday and although Kennedy is given only a slim chance of winning, it is expected to mark the emergency of the 36-year-old senator from the role of obedient member of the leadership team to a leader of the liberal bloc.

Republicans in the Senate also have a scrap going for No. 2 man while Illinois' Everett M. Dirksen is unchallenged for minority leader.

The GOP's Friday caucus will decide between Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Roman Hruska of Nebraska who are vying for the whip job vacated by the primary defeat of California's Thomas H. Kuchel. Hruska is backed by conservatives while Scott is a liberal-moderate.

There are no contests for whip in the House, assuring re-election of Democrat Hale Boggs of Louisiana and Republican Leslie Arends of Illinois.

But there are some lesser posts being contended.

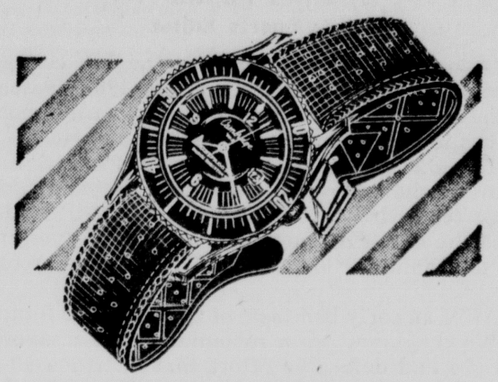

The forthcoming resignation of Rep. Melvin R. Laird, of Wisconsin to become secretary of defense in the Nixon cabinet leaves vacant the job of Republican conference chairman. Seeking the post are John B. Anderson of Illinois and Albert H. Quie of Minnesota, with Anderson having the inside track.

The other GOP leadership vacancy is the chairmanship of the Research and Planning Committee. Its most recent chairman was Charles E. Goodell of New York, who resigned to accept appointment to the Senate. Seeking the job are Robert T. Stafford of Vermont and Donald Rumsfeld of Illinois.

Ford has no opposition for reelection as minority floor leader, a position to which he will revert when the House, with Democrats in numerical control, formally elects a Democratic speaker tomorrow.

GAO Reports On Detroit Setup

Discrepancies Uncovered In Anti-Poverty Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators have discovered that hundreds of high school graduates—and even some college students—have collected government paychecks under Detroit antipoverty programs set up to provide jobs and training for high school dropouts.

In a report to Congress, the General Accounting Office cited this as one of "a number of discrepancies" it found in examining Neighborhood Youth Corps programs in Detroit, where slums were scarred by a major riot in 1967.

The 82-page report also disclosed that:

—Inadequate screening allowed some youths to receive federal assistance even though their families did not meet the antipoverty program's low-income criteria.

—Antipoverty officials made little or no attempt to follow up on the progress of youths who completed training, and thus had no way to gauge the programs' effectiveness.

—Sponsoring organizations indirectly used federal funds to help pay the local share of the programs' cost, and local sponsors paid only half their required 10 per cent.

—The "weaknesses cited went undetected for months because federal officials assigned to insure compliance with antipoverty program requirements "were performing very little monitoring of the NYC sponsor activities in Detroit.

The Associated Press reported last April 10 that GAO investigators were delving into operations of the poverty fighting efforts in Detroit, one of two cities in the nation whose central antipoverty agency is an arm of city government rather than an independent nonprofit corporation. The other is Chicago.

The GAO report centered on 16 neighborhood Youth Corps programs sponsored in fiscal 1966 and 1967 by one of three organizations—the Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development, the city Board of Education and the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit. Ohio State has proved it is the top college football team in the nation for the 1968 season, but the award to the college gridder with the most guts has to go to Penn State's Bob Campbell.

The Buckeyes and Nittany Lions ended the season as the only two unbeaten, untied major college teams in the nation, but the OSU squad looked the better of the two as seen on TV yesterday, the annual "longest day" of college football.

After an early bad taste of Orange Juice Simpson, Woody Hayes' team rebounded with a superb offensive and defensive effort that turned a 10-0 deficit into a 27-10 lead in the Rose Bowl. Southern California scored a final TD on a disputed call.

QUARTERBACK Rex Kern showed magician-like qualities in his ball handling as he consistently fooled USC and sent Buck backs for long gains. Ray Gillian, filling in for the injured Larry Zelina, was outstanding, especially as a pass receiver. The Ohio State defense, with Jack Tatum showing to good advantage, was outstanding in the second half, and held down Simpson, who proved that he is not a passer. The Heisman Trophy winner, who ran excellently in the first half, tried two aerials, with one incomplete and one intercepted.

WHILE OSU was methodical in its battering of Southern Cal, Penn State won in cliffhanger fashion from a tough Kansas team in the Orange Bowl. Campbell, an outstanding runner who has missed large chunks of the last two seasons due to injuries, suffered an ankle injury in the third period and seemed ineffective when he returned to action. But when Penn State took over the ball at mid-field with a minute to go, trailing 14-7, Campbell came through. He made a good catch of a Chuck Burkhart pass and ran it to the three. Three fullback plunges failed to produce a score, and Burkhart bootlegged the ball for the TD on the fourth down. The Nittany Lions, down 14-13, went for the two point conversion, but the pass was broken up. Kansas was called for an infraction however, and Joe Paterno's team got another chance. This time the ball was given to Campbell, and through sheer determinedness he took it over for the winning points.

The Penn Sate defense lived up to its notices, but the Kansas defense, led by 6-8 Vernon Vanoy, was better than expected. Vanoy plays basketball for the Jayhawks when football is over. The Lion defenders generally contained Bobby Douglass, the excellent Kansas quarterback, but the Penn State offense kept giving the ball away. Campbell made sure they didn't give the game away.

Big 8 Season Opens Friday

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Last year East Liverppol scored a 66-54 win at Warren. Tom Cope, the Panthers' big gun, has graduated, and Warren is 3-4. They jumped off to a good start, downing Youngstown South 62-43, and Massillon 59-54. After a 93-69 loss to Warren Western Reserve, Harding topped Canton Timken 67-61. But the last three games have all been losses. Sharon won 69-52, Canton Lehman took a 70-58 win and Boardman squeezed by 68-67. The four teams that have beaten Warren have lost a total of only three games, so it can be seen that the Panthers have played a tough schedule.

Youngstown East has not yet played a game, due to the closing of the Youngstown schools in December. East opens with Youngstown South Friday. Last East 55-36. Coach Lou Rivello has two returning starters in 6-5 Mervin Teague and 6-1 Lorenzo Mitchell. Teague led the team in scoring and rebounding last year, getting 13 points and 12 rebounds a game.

Other top prospects for East are 6-2 Gary Powers, 6-0 Aroscco Dubois, 6-0 Wayne McCullough, 5-10 Ervin Hill, 6-2 Andrew Gordon and 6-9 Jim Boggs. Last year the Golden Bears went 11-6.

The Potters are 5-1, with three of the wins and the loss close games. Jerry Christian continues to play excellent ball in the pivot for Clint McConnell's five, while Bill Montgomery and Rick Steffen provide added firepower.

OSU Wins Rose Bowl In Second Half

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes heads for Vietnam on Friday with the National Collegiate football championship firmly entrenched in his capable hands.

It will be the fourth goodwill jaunt for the veteran Buckeye mentor who scored his third Rose Bowl victory New Year's Day—an impressive 27-16 decision over Southern California.

The outcome left little doubt that the No. 1-ranked Buckeyes were as good as their press clippings. But Hayes heralded the victory as his most precious in a Rose Bowl clash.

"After we fell behind 10-0, I told the guys in the huddle that we better get rolling and quit messing around," Kern said.

"Getting that field goal was a big psychological advantage for us," Hayes said. "I felt we would win even after we got behind. I knew we would move the ball better".

"Our defense in the second half was fabulous. It was about as good as our best effort earlier when we beat Purdue 13-0." Simpson, who ripped through the Bucks for 137 yards in 18 first half trips, was limited to only 34 in 10 carries in the second period.

"O. J. broke the big one in the first half but we did a good job stopping him later. He is a tremendous player," Hayes said.

The alert Ohio defense, which has been the key many times in a perfect 10-0 season, recovered two fumbles that led to touchdowns and picked off two of Sogge's aerials.

Sogge hit end Sam Dickerson in the end zone on a 19-yard pitch. Both Dickerson and Polaski battled for the ball, and it looked like a possible interception.

"I still don't know what happened on that one. That's the first time I ever saw a touchdown called with the ball on the ground," Hayes said.

A poor punt of only 26 yards by Troy's John Young gave Ohio good field position late in the third quarter. In a typical Hayes' grinding drive, the Bucks marched 54 yards in 11 plays without benefit of a single pass.

When the drive stalled on the Trojans' eight, Roman kicked a 25-yard field goal for a 13-10 lead.

On the second play after the ensuing kickoff, Sogge fumbled after being belted by Bill Urbanik and middle guard Vic Stottlemeyer recovered on the 21. Five plays later, Ken hit Leo Hayden with a four-yard touchdown pass.

"If I had to pick the biggest single play of the game, Sogge's fumble was it," Hayes said.

Moments later, Ohio iced it when linebacker Mark Stier jarred Simpson loose from the ball after O.J. had caught a Sogge pass. This time halfback Mike Polaski was in the right

"This is my greatest bowl victory," the jubilant Hayes said afterwards. "After all, both teams were unbeaten.'"

"I still consider my 1954 team my greatest," he said. "We had four great backs that year."

Aspiring Southern California, the nation's second - ranked team, stunned the Bucks by opening a 10-0 lead in the second quarter.

Brilliant O. J. Simpson led the first Trojan thrust by gathering in three passes from Steve Sogge for 53 yards. A stout Buckeye defense stiffened on the the three and Ron Ayala booted a 21-yard field goal.

Santa Clara Keeps Hot, Downs Oklahoma City

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

While most everyone else was playing football, Santa Clara used New Year's Day to get a head start in 1969 on the rest of the nation's Top Ten basketball teams.

The only other major teams in action were Utah and Connecticut and Utah carried off a 105-85 victory over the visiting Huskies.

Santa Clara, fresh from a victory over Columbia in the Rainbow Classic title game Monday night in Hawaii, made Oklahoma City its 11th victim and boosted its chances to move even higher in the rankings.

While Davidson protected its No. 2 spot with a 94-32 triumph over Michigan Tuesday night, third-rated Kentucky lost to unranked Wisconsin 69-95 and appeared all but certain to fall.

In the only major games New Year's Eve, Duke beat Iowa 85-82 for the Sugar Bowl Classic crown, Houston won third place from Western Kentucky 87-66, Dayton stopped St. Louis U. 67-56, Loyola of Chicago whipped Wichita State 101-89 and Memphis State ripped Brown 70-52.

Among the rest of the Top Ten, only 10th-ranked Cincinnati starts the New Year before Saturday, playing at Tulsa tonight and at Wichita State Saturday.

The rest play Saturday night with UCLA, No. 1, hosting Tulane; Davidson entertaining 17th-ranked St. John's; Kentucky at Mississippi; North Carolina, No. 4, home to Duke; Kansas, No. 5, at Nebraska; Detroit, No. 7, at Marquette; Minnesota at Illinois, No. 8, and Villanova, No. 9, at St. Bonaventure, No. 20.

Celtics Defeat Suns; Warriors Top Royals

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics waited an extra day to bring in the New Year with one of their typical bangs, and it left the Phoenix Suns with a headache.

The Celtics, famous for their explosions that led them to many a National Basketball Association title in recent years, erupted for 11 of the first 12 points in the fourth quarter and beat the Suns 93-87 Wednesday night.

In the only other game, San Francisco rode by Cincinnati 106-101 in Cleveland behind Nate Thurmond and Rudy LaRusso.

Phoenix, playing at home, was leading the Celtics by three points after three quarters when Boston made its big noise. John Havlicek was the loudest with three baskets in the spurt, and then Emmette Bryant hit several long jump shots to keep the sound resounding in the Suns' ears.

Thurmond scored 24 points and took in 23 rebounds for San Francisco, which used LaRusso's basket in the second period to go ahead to stay 50-49 and a 13-1 spree at the end of the third quarter for an 89-73 spread.

LaRusso totaled 25 points. Oscar Robertson had 37 for Cincinnati and Jerry Lucas had 21 and 21 rebounds.

Los Angeles turned on the steam against Houston early in the second period with a 12-1 burst for a 30-14 lead and the Mavericks never got closer than 12 again. George Stone led the Stars with 24 points.

Cincinnati held its celebration on New Year's Eve with a 114-112 victory over the Celtics, while the New York Knicks beat Baltimore 121-110 for their ninth straight triumph. Philadelphia clobbered Milwaukee 128-107 and Detroit mauled the Los Angeles Lakers 127-107.

Dennis Hull Surges To Take 6th In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — With a four-week, 11-game surge that has netted him 23 points on 14 goals and nine assists, Dennis Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks has soared into sixth place in the National Hockey League scoring race. He trails his brother and teammate, Bobby Hull, by 10 points.

Arkansas Tops Georgia In Sugar Bowl

NEW ORELANS (AP) — Arkansas' wiley defenders stopped Georgia's offense and the pass catching of Razorback flanker Chuck Dicus — 12 for 169 yards and the game's only touchdown —gave the Southwest Conference co-champions a 16-2 upset victory yesterday over the previously unbeaten Bulldogs in the 34th annual Sugar Bowl football classic.

"Arkansas gave us a good, sound licking," said Georgia Coach Vince Dooley, whose team scored its fewest points in his five-year stint as head coach.

"We planned to rush," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles, posting his first Sugar Bowl victory in three tries.

The Arkansas offense wasn't as potent as it had been in 10 regular season games but Broyles commented in the dressing room: "Who cares when you have a defense like that?

"The amazing thing was that we were able to stop their rushing game," said Broyles, who lost to Alabama in the 1962 game here and again to Mississippi the following year.

Sports Whirled

Ohio State has proved it is the top college football team in the nation for the 1968 season, but the award to the college gridder with the most guts has to go to Penn State's Bob Campbell.

The Buckeyes and Nittany Lions ended the season as the only two unbeaten, untied major college teams in the nation, but the OSU squad looked the better of the two as seen on TV yesterday, the annual "longest day" of college football.

After an early bad taste of Orange Juice Simpson, Woody Hayes' team rebounded with a superb offensive and defensive effort that turned a 10-0 deficit into a 27-10 lead in the Rose Bowl. Southern California scored a final TD on a disputed call.

QUARTERBACK Rex Kern showed magician-like qualities in his ball handling as he consistently fooled USC and sent Buck backs for long gains. Ray Gillian, filling in for the injured Larry Zelina, was outstanding, especially as a pass receiver. The Ohio State defense, with Jack Tatum showing to good advantage, was outstanding in the second half, and held down Simpson, who proved that he is not a passer. The Heisman Trophy winner, who ran excellently in the first half, tried two aerials, with one incomplete and one intercepted.

The Buckeyes even seemed to have corrected their one weakness, place-kicking, as Canton's Jim Roman booted two field goals.

WHILE OSU was methodical in its battering of Southern Cal, Penn State won in cliffhanger fashion from a tough Kansas team in the Orange Bowl. Campbell, an outstanding runner who has missed large chunks of the last two seasons due to injuries, suffered an ankle injury in the third period and seemed ineffective when he returned to action. But when Penn State took over the ball at mid-field with a minute to go, trailing 14-7, Campbell came through. He made a good catch of a Chuck Burkhart pass and ran it to the three. Three fullback plunges failed to produce a score, and Burkhart bootlegged the ball for the TD on the fourth down. The Nittany Lions, down 14-13, went for the two point conversion, but the pass was broken up. Kansas was called for an infraction however, and Joe Paterno's team got another chance. This time the ball was given to Campbell, and through sheer determinedness he took it over for the winning points.

The Penn Sate defense lived up to its notices, but the Kansas defense, led by 6-8 Vernon Vanoy, was better than expected. Vanoy plays basketball for the Jayhawks when football is over. The Lion defenders generally contained Bobby Douglass, the excellent Kansas quarterback, but the Penn State offense kept giving the ball away. Campbell made sure they didn't give the game away.

Big 8 Season Opens Friday

By TURK PIERCE

Last year East Liverppol scored a 66-54 win at Warren. Tom Cope, the Panthers' big gun, has graduated, and Warren is 3-4. They jumped off to a good start, downing Youngstown South 62-43, and Massillon 59-54. After a 93-69 loss to Warren Western Reserve, Harding topped Canton Timken 67-61. But the last three games have all been losses. Sharon won 69-52, Canton Lehman took a 70-58 win and Boardman squeezed by 68-67. The four teams that have beaten Warren have lost a total of only three games, so it can be seen that the Panthers have played a tough schedule.

Youngstown East has not yet played a game, due to the closing of the Youngstown schools in December. East opens with Youngstown South Friday. Last East 55-36. Coach Lou Rivello has two returning starters in 6-5 Mervin Teague and 6-1 Lorenzo Mitchell. Teague led the team in scoring and rebounding last year, getting 13 points and 12 rebounds a game.

Other top prospects for East are 6-2 Gary Powers, 6-0 Aroscoo Dubois, 6-0 Wayne McCullough, 5-10 Ervin Hill, 6-2 Andrew Gordon and 6-9 Jim Boggs. Last year the Golden Bears went 11-6.

The Potters are 5-1, with three of the wins and the loss close games. Jerry Christian continues to play excellent ball in the pivot for Clint McConnell's five, while Bill Montgomery and Rick Steffen provide added firepower.

Penn State Nips Kansas On 2nd Chance Conversion

Bob Campbell Scores Decider

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — A 12th man on the field gave Penn State a second chance for a winning two point conversion with 15 seconds remaining and the Nittany Lions made it for a 15-14 victory over Kansas in the Orange Bowl New Year's night.

Third-ranked Penn State appeared beaten when a pass for the two points fell incompete, leaving Kansas with a 14-13 lead. A red flag, however, lay on the goal line as players streamed off the field. An official had counted 12 Jayhawks in the lineup on the play.

Penn State wasn't about to stare a gift horse in the mouth. Given a second chance, this time from the one-yard line, the Nittany Lions made it good for their 11th victory in a perfect season.

The finish stunned a crowd of 77,719, which had begun to file out thinking the game was over and Kansas had won. Even the Nittany Lions' tying touchdown was something out of fiction. It came on a busted play.

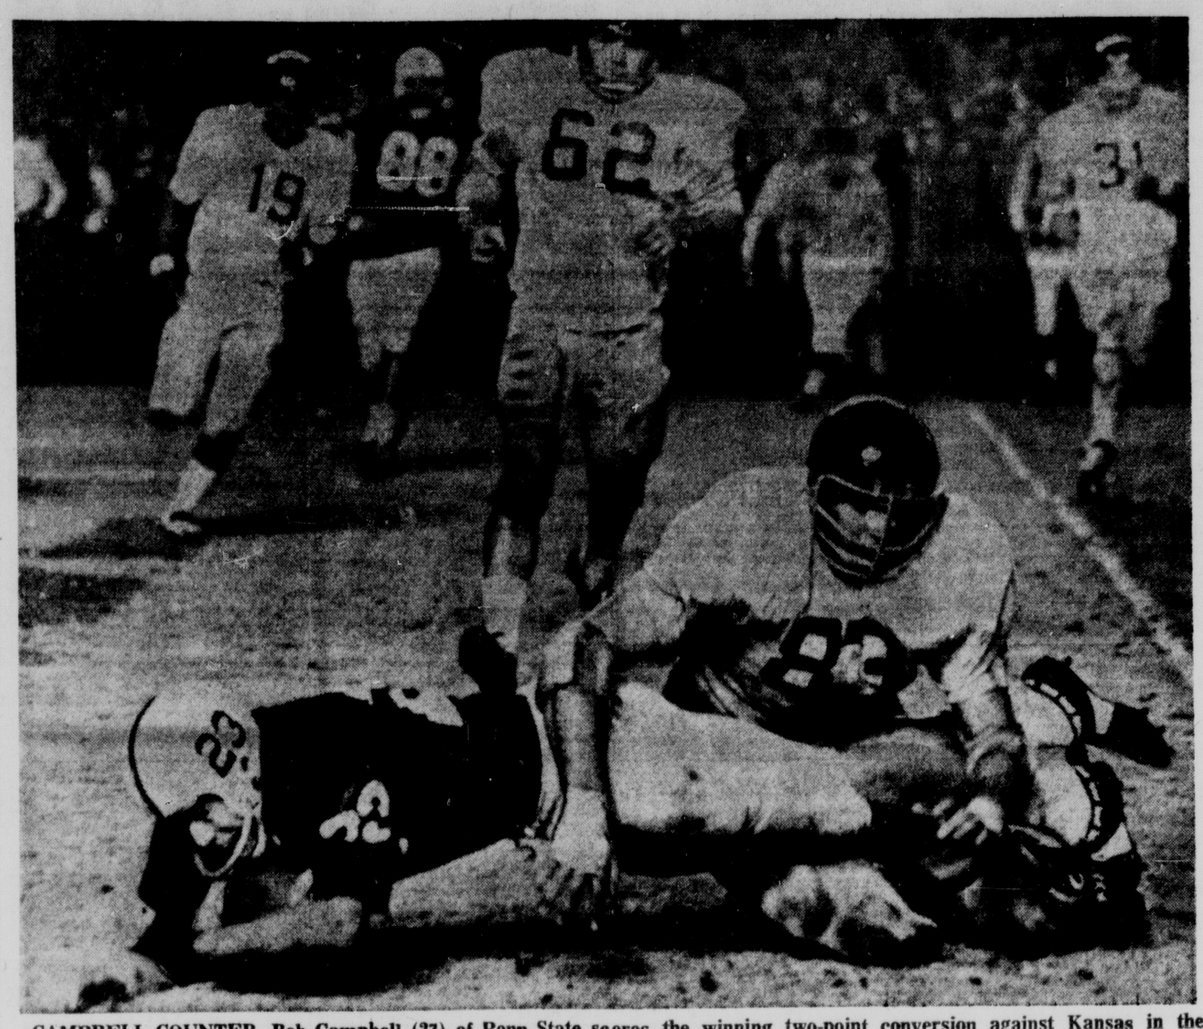

Penn State trailed 14-7 with 1:28 remaining. Kansas, with a fourth down and 23 at its 25-yard line, was forced to punt. Penn State put on a 10-man rush and defensive halfback Neal Smith partially blocked the ball which was covered at the Kansas 49.

On first down, Penn State ran what Coach Joe Paterno called a "go pattern" with quarterback Chuck Burkhart passing to Campbell, who grabbed the ball over the head of Kansas defender Tommy Anderson and fell at the Jayhawks' three-yard line.

Two smashes by fullback Tom Cherry netted absolutely nothing against the stubborn Kansas defense. Then, Burkhart, the unsung quarterback of the third-ranked Nittany Lions, rolled to his right and raced three yards for a touchdown.

Actually, Burkhart was supposed to hand off the ball to halfback Charley Pittman, but a Kansas defender got between them and Burkhart had no choice but to run for his life into the corner. He scored standing up, setting up the most dramatic finish in the 35-year history of the Orange Bowl.

Kansas built its 14-7 lead with a first period touchdown scored by Mike Reeves at the end of a nine-play, 45-yard drive. Penn State tied it in the second quarter on a 47-yard drive climaxed by Charlie Pittman's 13-yard run into the end zone. In the fourth period, Donnie Shanklin returned a punt 46-yards to the State 8. Riggins gained seven and then dove the final yard.

Longhorns Win Cotton Bowl

Balanced Texas Attack Outclasses Tennessee

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas used the lance and the sledgehammer with equal deadliness in executing bewildered Tennessee 36-13 Wednesday in the 33rd annual Cotton Bowl classic.

The "lance" was an especially concocted aerial from quarterback James Street to swift and elusive Charles "Cotton" Speyrer. The first strike went for a 78-yard touchdown. The second bomb—also Street to Speyrer—and run covered 79 yards for a score.

Street, All-America Chris Gilbert, Ted Koy and Steve Worster galloped for 250 yards and three touchdowns through the physically whipped Volunteer line.

"I have never seen a backfield as balanced as theirs," said Vol All-America guard Charles Rosenfielder. "Texas is one of the better, if not the best team I have played against in my three varsity seasons."

Tennessee Capt. Dick Williams said, "Their execution killed us. You couldn't tell what was happening. He (Street) did a great job. He knew what to do."

Street, whose only claim to fame at Texas until this season was that he was a good baseball pitcher, literally picked the heralded Vol defense apart.

Operating from the Longhorns' unique "Wishbone-T" or "Y" formation, Street faked beautifully drawing the Tennessee secondary in a step. He lofted a shot to sophomore Speyrer, a 168-pound gadfly split end who caught the ball, faked defensive back Jimmy Weatherford out of position and roared home.

Speyrer was the only receiver out on the play. It was the first time Texas had used it off the triple-option.

"I kinda thought we might hit that bomb," said Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

Street, named the game's most valuable offensive player, hit 7 of 13 passes for 200 yards. Speyrer snared five of the passes for 161 yards.

Fifth-ranked Texas rolled up a massive 513 yards in total offense—279 on the ground and 234 in the air. The other touchdowns came on Koy's nine-yard run and Gilbert's five-yard dash.

Hayes Praises Defense

McKay Blames Fumbles For Southern Cal Loss

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Southern California's football coach, John McKay, says "If we hadn't given up the ball deep, we would not have given up more than two or three touchdowns and I think we would have won."

"It detracts somewhat when you fumble," McKay said Wednesday after Ohio State's top-ranked Buckeye had beaten his Trojans 27-16 in the Rose Bowl.

Despite the Trojans' 10-0 lead in the first half, Ohio State reeled off 27 straight points to earn clear title to the No. 1 college football ranking.

"The biggest factor of the game was our defense in the second half," said Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes.

"O.J. broke through for that big one in the first half, but we contained him well in the second half."

O.J. Simpson, USC's Heisman Trophy-winning halfback, scampered for 137 yards in the first half, including an 80-yard touchdown burst. But in the second half Simpson added only 34 yards and fumbled twice, one which led on the next play to a Buckeye touchdown.

"Our defense was fabulous," Hayes said jubiliantly.

"It was about as good as our best effort earlier when we beat Purdue 13-0."

McKay said the Trojan game plan was to throw to Simpson more often than during the regular season.

"Jack Tatum is their rover," McKay said. "We felt if we could send Simpson in motion, Tatum would go to the flanker and by shifting O.J. to the slot, we could pass to him. That way he'd be isolated one on one. Looking back, maybe we should have thrown to him a lot more than we did."

Hayes admitted the strategy "surprised the linebackers. But don't forget that Tatum, Ted Provost and Mark Stier were playing with injuries."

Simpson caught eight passes for 85 yards as compared to his 10-game regular season total of 18 catches.

"I think I'll be used a lot more as a pass receiver by the professionals," Simpson said. "I like to get a defensive man one-on-one and I have experience as a pass receiver. When I was in junior college, I was primarily a flanker."

Simpson's 80-yard second quarter scoring shot gave USC a 10-point lead. Asked what his thoughts were then, Hayes said: "I thought we would win. I thought we would move the ball better."

"He's a tremendous player and a great sportsman," said Hayes of Simpson. "He came into the dressing room to congratulate my kids."

Leetonia Takes Lead In Scoring

Leetonia, with an 87-point outburst against Crestview, has taken over the lead in offense among area scholastic basketball teams.

The Bears are averaging 68.8 points a game to 67.3 a game by Wellsville and 67.1 a contest by Midland.

East Liverpool retains the lead in defense, yielding 45.2 a game compared to 47.8 for Midland.

Jack Mills of United Local saw his scoring average drop to 24.7, but he still has a wide lead over John Bobalik of Wellsville. Jim Carnes of Oak Glen moved into the Top 10, replacing Joe Lewis of East Palestine.

On the next play, Kern found halfback Ray Gillian all alone over the middle on a 16-yard TD strike and Ohio stormed out to a 27-10 advantage.

Southen Cal actually outgained Ohio in total offense with 366 yards to the Bucks' 361. Simpson's 171 net fell 24 yards short of eclipsing the Rose Bowl record of 194 set by Iowa's Bob Jeter against California in 1959.

But Otis and Hayden, a pair of workhorses, gained 101 and 90 yards, respectively, for the victors and Kern, who ran for 35, completed nine of 15 for 101.

When the fans outside the Ohio dressing room shouted "We want Woody", Hayes obliged by coming to the door and waving to the crowd.

Waterford Ends Most Popular Year

That ran the season totals to 983,762 fans who bet $74,943,221. Both figures represent all - time records at the popular tri-state track.

While the 6 - 9 combination failed to click in either the daily double or any of the five perfecta races, Monty Ayr Toy saved the day when she won the seventh race by a nose and paid $69 to win.

The first day of the new year saw favorite players starting off on the right foot when they got Snitch home in the first at $6.20 and Fearborn home in the second at $5.80. The very popular 1-6 daily double was worth $19.40.

The best paying perfecta came about in the tenth race when Dancing Jewel upset at $28.60, finishing just ahead of Calicoon. The 9-4 perfecta rewarded $164.20.

Waterford Park will shut down for the remainder of January and better than half of February.

Bobby Hull, Howe Even In NHL Scoring Race

By The Associated Press

Hull scored his 24th goal of the season Wednesday night and Chicago defeated Detroit 4-1. Howe, who had taken over the scoring lead the night before, was shut out and Hull's goal enabled him to tie the Detroit star for the scoring lead. Each has 50 points.

In other games Wednesday, Toronto battered Oakland 7-3 and Los Angeles battled St. Louis' West Division leaders to a 0-0 draw.

On New Year's Eve, Detroit dropped Minnesota 6-3 and Montreal slipped by Pittsburgh 4-3.

Hull suffered his cracked jaw the last time the Black Hawks faced the Red Wings and aggravated it against Toronto. He missed one game and then came back with a helmet and cross bar protecting his jaw and has scored in both games since returning.

Ullman's 17th of the season broke a tie in the second period and he added No. 18 in the third. Larry Mickey had a goal and two assists for the Leafs, who remained tied with Chicago. Both clubs moved past idle New York into third place in the NHL's East Division.

The St. Louis-Los Angeles match featured outstanding goal tending by veteran Blues goalie Jacques Plante, who turned away 31 shots, and Kings goalie Gerry Desjardins, who had 26 saves.

It was the second time Plante had blanked the Kings this season and it was his fifth shutout of the campaign, giving the former Montreal star the league lead in that department.

Wheeling Downs Opens On Saturday

This second meeting since the Downs was completely rebuilt following the disastrous 1962 fire is scheduled for Jan. 4-Feb. 15. The Downs, fully winterized now, operated a similar meeting last year.

It has been 10 months since the ponies left the Downs last February but the time has not been idle for the crew of workmen who have been polishing the facilities in preparation for the new meet.

The fire that destroyed the grandstand and many of the barns just before Christmas, 1962, may have been a blessing in disguise. Since that time, President James F. Edwards has overseen the construction of a $2 million renovating program that includes an ultra-modern grandstand enclosed with 20-foot high glass windows on the front, a 400-foot concrete apron, service entrances, paddock area, and acres and acres of black - topped walkways and parking areas.

The track itself has been reconditioned from last year and is expected to resist the onslaughts of old man winter enough to furnish excellent racing conditions.

The Downs broke the ice, so to speak, with racing in the dead of winter last year and many of the problems connected with the maiden year of operation have been conquered.

This year, some 700 horses are expected to be quartered at the Downs, enough to assure a good grade of competition six days a week. Racing, of course, is not permitted on Sundays in West Virginia.

Koufax Married To Anne Widmark

Koufax, 32, and Ann Widmark were married New Year's Day at the Widmarks' home in West Los Angeles. Judge Lester Roth conducted the private ceremony.

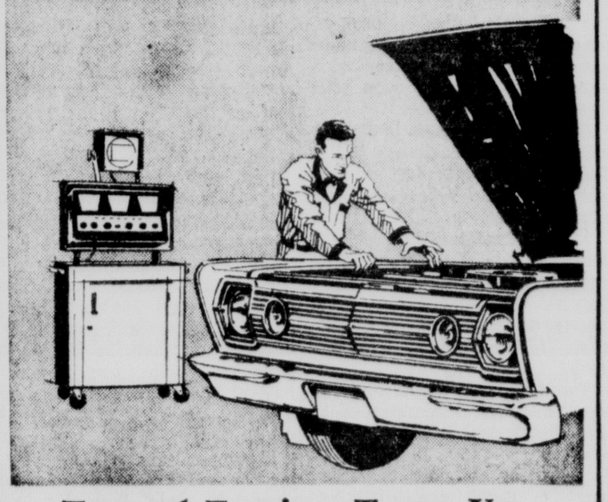

Koufax was forced to retire from baseball in 1966 because of an arthritic left elbow. The southpaw pitcher set major league records by pitching four no-hit, no-run games during his career.

Tony Cuccinello, third base coach of the champion Detroit Tigers, had planned to retire at the end of the 1968 baseball season. He did, but when Al Lopez, his friend, decided to return with the Chicago White Sox, Cooch joined him as a coach.

Penn State Nips Kansas On 2nd Chance Conversion

Bob Campbell Scores Decider

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — A 12th man on the field gave Penn State a second chance for a winning two point conversion with 15 seconds remaining and the Nittany Lions made it for a 15-14 victory over Kansas in the Orange Bowl New Year's night.

Third-ranked Penn State appeared beaten when a pass for the two points fell incompete, leaving Kansas with a 14-13 lead. A red flag, however, lay on the goal line as players streamed off the field. An official had counted 12 Jayhawks in the lineup on the play.

Penn State wasn't about to stare a gift horse in the mouth. Given a second chance, this time from the one-yard line, the Nittany Lions made it good for their 11th victory in a perfect season.

The finish stunned a crowd of 77,719, which had begun to file out thinking the game was over and Kansas had won. Even the Nittany Lions' tying touchdown was something out of fiction. It came on a busted play.

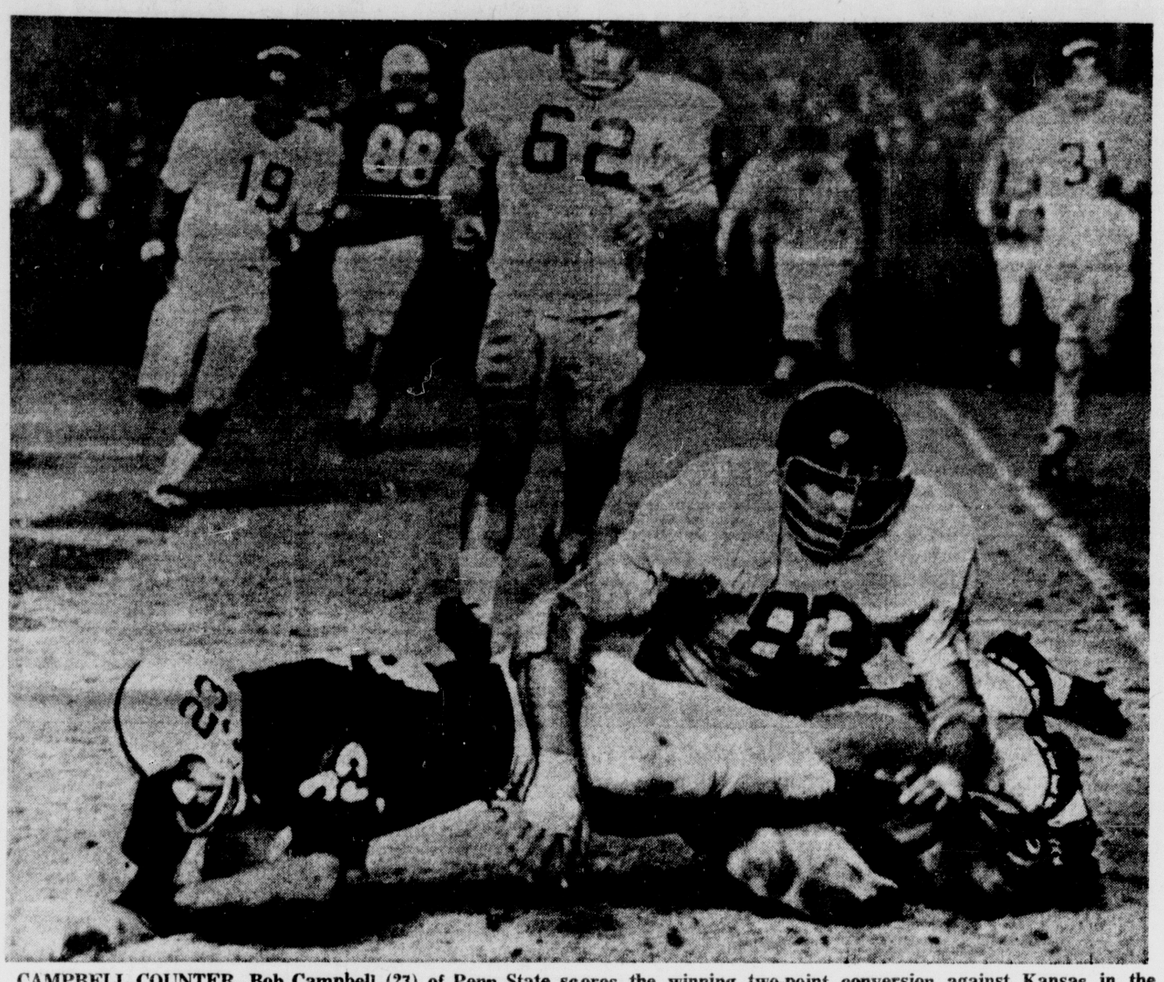

Penn State trailed 14-7 with 1:28 remaining. Kansas, with a fourth down and 23 at its 25-yard line, was forced to punt. Penn State put on a 10-man rush and defensive halfback Neal Smith partially blocked the ball which was covered at the Kansas 49.

On first down, Penn State ran what Coach Joe Paterno called a "go pattern" with quarterback Chuck Burkhart passing to Campbell, who grabbed the ball over the head of Kansas defender Tommy Anderson and fell at the Jayhawks' three-yard line.

Two smashes by fullback Tom Cherry netted absolutely nothing against the stubborn Kansas defense. Then, Burkhart, the unsung quarterback of the third-ranked Nittany Lions, rolled to his right and raced three yards for a touchdown.

Actually, Burkhart was supposed to hand off the ball to halfback Charley Pittman, but a Kansas defender got between them and Burkhart had no choice but to run for his life into the corner. He scored standing up, setting up the most dramatic finish in the 35-year history of the Orange Bowl.

Kansas built its 14-7 lead with a first period touchdown scored by Mike Reeves at the end of a nine-play, 45-yard drive. Penn State tied it in the second quarter on a 47-yard drive climaxed by Charlie Pittman's 13-yard run into the end zone. In the fourth period, Donnie Shanklin returned a punt 46-yards to the State 8. Riggins gained seven and then dove the final yard.

Longhorns Win Cotton Bowl

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas used the lance and the sledgehammer with equal deadliness in executing bewildered Tennessee 36-13 Wednesday in the 33rd annual Cotton Bowl classic.

The "lance" was an especially concocted aerial from quarterback James Street to swift and elusive Charles "Cotton" Speyrer. The first strike went for a 78-yard touchdown. The second bomb—also Street to Speyrer—and run covered 79 yards for a score.

The "sledgehammer" was the brutal, ground-trembling runs of Texas' flying foursome.

Street, All-America Chris Gilbert, Ted Koy and Steve Worster galloped for 250 yards and three touchdowns through the physically whipped Volunteer line.

Tennessee was rather awed by the devastation.

"I have never seen a backfield as balanced as theirs," said Vol All-America guard Charles Rosenfielder. "Texas is one of the better, if not the best team I have played against in my three varsity seasons."

Tennessee Capt. Dick Williams said, "Their execution killed us. You couldn't tell what was happening. He (Street) did a great job. He knew what to do."

Street, whose only claim to fame at Texas until this season was that he was a good baseball pitcher, literally picked the heralded Vol defense apart.

Operating from the Longhorns' unique "Wishbone-T" or "Y" formation, Street faked beautifully drawing the Tennessee secondary in a step. He lofted a shot to sophomore Speyrer, a 168-pound gadfly split end who caught the ball, faked defensive back Jimmy Weatherford out of position and roared home.

Speyrer was the only receiver out on the play. It was the first time Texas had used it off the triple-option.

"I kinda thought we might hit that bomb," said Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

In the third quarter, Street and Speyrer teamed up on almost the exact carbon copy—only one yard longer.

Street, named the game's most valuable offensive player, hit 7 of 13 passes for 200 yards. Speyrer snared five of the passes for 161 yards.

Fifth-ranked Texas rolled up a massive 513 yards in total offense—279 on the ground and 234 in the air. The other touchdowns came on Koy's nine-yard run and Gilbert's five-yard dash.

Hayes Praises Defense

McKay Blames Fumbles For Southern Cal Loss

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Southern California's football coach, John McKay, says "If we hadn't given up the ball deep, we would not have given up more than two or three touchdowns and I think we would have won."

"It detracts somewhat when you fumble," McKay said Wednesday after Ohio State's top-ranked Buckeye had beaten his Trojans 27-16 in the Rose Bowl.

The Buckeyes' second-half defense and two key fumble recoveries told the story.

Despite the Trojans' 10-0 lead in the first half, Ohio State reeled off 27 straight points to earn clear title to the No. 1 college football ranking.

"The biggest factor of the game was our defense in the second half," said Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes.

"O.J. broke through for that big one in the first half, but we contained him well in the second half."

O.J. Simpson, USC's Heisman Trophy-winning halfback, scampered for 137 yards in the first half, including an 80-yard touchdown burst. But in the second half Simpson added only 34 yards and fumbled twice, one which led on the next play to a Buckeye touchdown.

"Our defense was fabulous," Hayes said jubiliantly.

"It was about as good as our best effort earlier when we beat Purdue 13-0."

McKay said the Trojan game plan was to throw to Simpson more often than during the regular season.

"Jack Tatum is their rover," McKay said. "We felt if we could send Simpson in motion, Tatum would go to the flanker and by shifting O.J. to the slot, we could pass to him. That way he'd be isolated one on one. Looking back, maybe we should have thrown to him a lot more than we did."

Hayes admitted the strategy "surprised the linebackers. But don't forget that Tatum, Ted Provost and Mark Stier were playing with injuries."

Simpson caught eight passes for 85 yards as compared to his 10-game regular season total of 18 catches.

"I think I'll be used a lot more as a pass receiver by the professionals," Simpson said. "I like to get a defensive man one-on-one and I have experience as a pass receiver. When I was in junior college, I was primarily a flanker."

Simpson's 80-yard second quarter scoring shot gave USC a 10-point lead. Asked what his thoughts were then, Hayes said: "I thought we would win. I thought we would move the ball better."

"He's a tremendous player and a great sportsman," said Hayes of Simpson. "He came into the dressing room to congratulate my kids."

Leetonia Takes Lead In Scoring

Leetonia, with an 87-point outburst against Crestview, has taken over the lead in offense among area scholastic basketball teams.

The Bears are averaging 68.8 points a game to 67.3 a game by Wellsville and 67.1 a contest by Midland.

East Liverpool retains the lead in defense, yielding 45.2 a game compared to 47.8 for Midland.

Jack Mills of United Local saw his scoring average drop to 24.7, but he still has a wide lead over John Bobalik of Wellsville. Jim Carnes of Oak Glen moved into the Top 10, replacing Joe Lewis of East Palestine.

On the next play, Kern found halfback Ray Gillian all alone over the middle on a 16-yard TD strike and Ohio stormed out to a 27-10 advantage.

Southen Cal actually outgained Ohio in total offense with 366 yards to the Bucks' 361. Simpson's 171 net fell 24 yards short of eclipsing the Rose Bowl record of 194 set by Iowa's Bob Jeter against California in 1959.

But Otis and Hayden, a pair of workhorses, gained 101 and 90 yards, respectively, for the victors and Kern, who ran for 35, completed nine of 15 for 101.

Waterford Ends Most Popular Year

A crowd of 3,430 welcomed in the new year at Waterford Park yesterday, and at day's end, the fans had wagered $337,327.

That ran the season totals to 983,762 fans who bet $74,943,221. Both figures represent all - time records at the popular tri-state track.

While the 6 - 9 combination failed to click in either the daily double or any of the five perfecta races, Monty Ayr Toy saved the day when she won the seventh race by a nose and paid $69 to win.

The first day of the new year saw favorite players starting off on the right foot when they got Snitch home in the first at $6.20 and Fearborn home in the second at $5.80. The very popular 1-6 daily double was worth $19.40.

The best paying perfecta came about in the tenth race when Dancing Jewel upset at $28.60, finishing just ahead of Calicoon. The 9-4 perfecta rewarded $164.20.

Waterford Park will shut down for the remainder of January and better than half of February.

Horse racing fans can continue their activities at Wheeling Downs, beginning Saturday. The historic island track will present a 37-day session.

Bobby Hull, Howe Even In NHL Scoring Race

By The Associated Press

Hull scored his 24th goal of the season Wednesday night and Chicago defeated Detroit 4-1. Howe, who had taken over the scoring lead the night before, was shut out and Hull's goal enabled him to tie the Detroit star for the scoring lead. Each has 50 points.

In other games Wednesday, Toronto battered Oakland 7-3 and Los Angeles battled St. Louis' West Division leaders to a 0-0 draw.

On New Year's Eve, Detroit dropped Minnesota 6-3 and Montreal slipped by Pittsburgh 4-3.

Hull suffered his cracked jaw the last time the Black Hawks faced the Red Wings and aggravated it against Toronto. He missed one game and then came back with a helmet and cross bar protecting his jaw and has scored in both games since returning.

Ullman's 17th of the season broke a tie in the second period and he added No. 18 in the third. Larry Mickey had a goal and two assists for the Leafs, who remained tied with Chicago. Both clubs moved past idle New York into third place in the NHL's East Division.

The St. Louis-Los Angeles match featured outstanding goal tending by veteran Blues goalie Jacques Plante, who turned away 31 shots, and Kings goalie Gerry Desjardins, who had 26 saves.

It was the second time Plante had blanked the Kings this season and it was his fifth shutout of the campaign, giving the former Montreal star the league lead in that department.

Wheeling Downs Opens On Saturday

Historic Wheeling Downs, starting on its second century of racing, is sounding the call to the post Saturday.

This second meeting since the Downs was completely rebuilt following the disastrous 1962 fire is scheduled for Jan. 4-Feb. 15. The Downs, fully winterized now, operated a similar meeting last year.

It has been 10 months since the ponies left the Downs last February but the time has not been idle for the crew of workmen who have been polishing the facilities in preparation for the new meet.

The fire that destroyed the grandstand and many of the barns just before Christmas, 1962, may have been a blessing in disguise. Since that time, President James F. Edwards has overseen the construction of a $2 million renovating program that includes an ultra-modern grandstand enclosed with 20-foot high glass windows on the front, a 400-foot concrete apron, service entrances, paddock area, and acres and acres of black - topped walkways and parking areas.

The track itself has been reconditioned from last year and is expected to resist the onslaughts of old man winter enough to furnish excellent racing conditions.

The Downs broke the ice, so to speak, with racing in the dead of winter last year and many of the problems connected with the maiden year of operation have been conquered.

This year, some 700 horses are expected to be quartered at the Downs, enough to assure a good grade of competition six days a week. Racing, of course, is not permitted on Sundays in West Virginia.

THE ENGINE KNOCKS, the TIRES GROW THIN — I think I'll trade my old heap in! See us at AL GREEN'S Lincoln-Mercury.

EMERGENCY DRIVING ACTION: If your headlights both cut out suddenly, what would you do? Flip on your directional signal, if you still have power it might help you see the center stripe. If that doesn't work, try your parking lights. In any case, get off the road as quickly as safety permits.

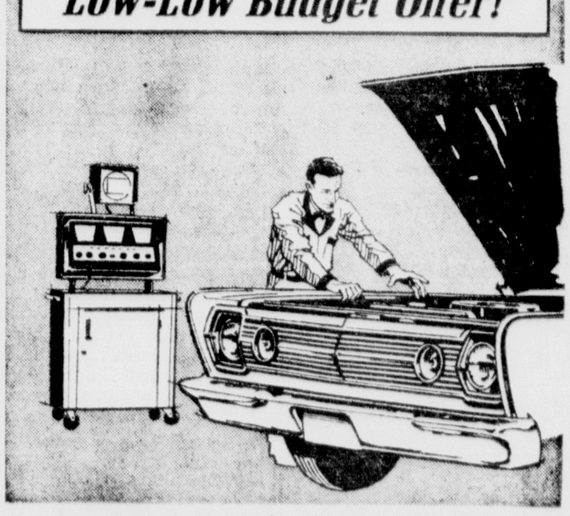

HAVE YOU TEST DRIVEN THE 1969 Mercury yet? If you haven't, stop in at AL GREEN LINCOLN - MERCURY this week, and let us put you behind the wheel of a Mercury demonstration drive. You'll love Mercury for '69 so stop by this week and Drive a Mercury!

WANT A CRASH HELMET THAT ISN'T a helmet? Just out is a baseball cap with a protective shield inside it. No one knows it's a hard hat. Looks sharp too and it could save the old noggin!

AT THE END OF 1966, CANADA HAD A total of 365,039 miles of surfaced roads and streets for its 7,323,000 vehicles.

HOW LONG HAS IT BEEN SINCE YOU'VE checked your car's safety belts? Check hold down bolts, webbing for fraying, buckles.

Still Pledged To Reform Programs

Familiar Leaders Retain Control In Czech Capital

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's most sweeping government change since the August invasion left the occupied nation today with familiar leaders still in control and still pledged to press ahead with stalled reform programs.

Premier Oldrich Cernik's new federal government, announced Wednesday, contained no unexpected members. There was no indication that the wholesale reshuffle involved in setting up the new federal system would lead, under Soviet pressure, to a purge of progressives.

Diplomatic observers said the new lineup made no basic shift in the balance between progressives and conservatives.

There wert two additions to the Cabinet's senior ranks.

Jan Marko, 48, a relatively unknown engineer and economic specialist, was named foreign minister. He succeeds Jiri Hajek, who resigned Sept. 19 under Soviet pressure after denouncing the invasion at the United Nations.

The other new man is Jan Tabacek, also an engineer, named foreign trade minister. He succeeds Vaclav Vales, who became a deputy premier.

Deputy Premiers Petr Colotka and Frantisek Hamouz remained in the new government. Samuel Faltan, another new deputy premier, has been chairman of the Slovak National Front.

Two members of the top Communist party leadership—Gustav Husak and Lubomir Strougal—lost deputy premierships but held on to more important party jobs that form their power bases.

The accent through the Cabinet was on men known as specialists to shepherd the inflation-troubled economy through a difficult period. Cernik, 47, is also an economic specialist.

There were no changes in the top ranks of the Communist party, which is still headed by First Secretary Alexander Dubcek. The party is the nation's most important body and sets the policy the government carries out.

Cernik's outgoing government had 23 members. Ministers squeezed out are expected to get posts in the regional Czech and Slovak governments that will be announced later.

Before announcing the new government, President Ludvik Svoboda in a televised New Year's address put the accent for the future on reforms that have been stalled since the invasion. These are largely in the economic field.

He once more tied forign policy close to the Soviet Union but said that on internal matters "our people are masters in their own country."

Full Financing Of W.Va. Bridge By FHA Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's possible that the Federal Highway Administration will finance the entire $14.4 million cost of replacing the Ohio River bridge at Point Pleasant, W.Va., which collapsed Dec. 15, 1967.

Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., said an amendment to the 1968 Federal Highway Aid Act makes "catastrophic failures from any cause" among disasters for which states would be eligible to receive full federal aid.

An FHA spokesman said highway commissions in West Virginia and Ohio have been informed that full federal funding for replacing the bridge "has been okayed by us."

Previously, the cost of replacing the span was to have been shared by Ohio, West Virginia and the Appalachian Regional Commission as well as the FHA.

Under the amended law the governors of both states must declare an emergency exists. Then the highway commissions of both states must apply to the government for emergency relief funds.

The FHA spokesman said he didn't know whether the road commissions of the two states have applied for the funds yet.

There are less than three million horses and mules in the United States today, compared with more than 25 million in 1920, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

In memory of William H. Robinson, who passed away one year ago today, Jan. 2, 1968.
Today I'll fix a meat loaf And bake some home made bread. And maybe Bill will come out home, Then I remember, Bill is dead! Dear Bill, how I miss you, My heart throbs with pain, Did you find peace in death, my son, Or was it all in vain? I mourn for you in silence, No eye can see me weep, But many tears are shed, my son, While others are asleep. Sadly missed by Mom, Harold, Peggy and Karen.

Millhorn, C. William — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who passed away one year ago today:
The moon and stars are shining
Where sleeps our husbnd and father
We loved but could not save.
We often sit and think of you and
Speak of how you died;
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best;
May God grant you eternal rest.
From his loving Wife, Children and Grandchildren.

Still Pledged To Reform Programs

Familiar Leaders Retain Control In Czech Capital

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's most sweeping government change since the August invasion left the occupied nation today with familiar leaders still in control and still pledged to press ahead with stalled reform programs.

Premier Oldrich Cernik's new federal government, announced Wednesday, contained no unexpected members. There was no indication that the wholesale reshuffle involved in setting up the new federal system would lead, under Soviet pressure, to a purge of progressives.

Diplomatic observers said the new lineup made no basic shift in the balance between progressives and conservatives.

The federal system gives more autonomy to the Czech and Slovak governments but leaves over-all programs in the hands of the federal Cabinet.

There wert two additions to the Cabinet's senior ranks.

Jan Marko, 48, a relatively unknown engineer and economic specialist, was named foreign minister. He succeeds Jiri Hajek, who resigned Sept. 19 under Soviet pressure after denouncing the invasion at the United Nations.

Marko was one of the progressives elected to the Communist party central committee at a clandestine congress soon after the invasion.

The other new man is Jan Tabacek, also an engineer, named foreign trade minister. He succeeds Vaclav Vales, who became a deputy premier.

Deputy Premiers Petr Colotka and Frantisek Hamouz remained in the new government. Samuel Faltan, another new deputy premier, has been chairman of the Slovak National Front.

Two members of the top Communist party leadership—Gustav Husak and Lubomir Strougal—lost deputy premierships but held on to more important party jobs that form their power bases.

The accent through the Cabinet was on men known as specialists to shepherd the inflation-troubled economy through a difficult period. Cernik, 47, is also an economic specialist.

There were no changes in the top ranks of the Communist party, which is still headed by First Secretary Alexander Dubcek. The party is the nation's most important body and sets the policy the government carries out.

A group of state committee chairmen form a junior level in the new cabinet. Again the accent was on specialists and there were no surprises.

Cernik's outgoing government had 23 members. Ministers squeezed out are expected to get posts in the regional Czech and Slovak governments that will be announced later.

Before announcing the new government, President Ludvik Svoboda in a televised New Year's address put the accent for the future on reforms that have been stalled since the invasion. These are largely in the economic field.

He once more tied forign policy close to the Soviet Union but said that on internal matters "our people are masters in their own country."

Full Financing Of W.Va. Bridge By FHA Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's possible that the Federal Highway Administration will finance the entire $14.4 million cost of replacing the Ohio River bridge at Point Pleasant, W.Va., which collapsed Dec. 15, 1967.

Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., said an amendment to the 1968 Federal Highway Aid Act makes "catastrophic failures from any cause" among disasters for which states would be eligible to receive full federal aid.

An FHA spokesman said highway commissions in West Virginia and Ohio have been informed that full federal funding for replacing the bridge "has been okayed by us."

Previously, the cost of replacing the span was to have been shared by Ohio, West Virginia and the Appalachian Regional Commission as well as the FHA.

Under the amended law the governors of both states must declare an emergency exists. Then the highway commissions of both states must apply to the government for emergency relief funds.

The FHA spokesman said he didn't know whether the road commissions of the two states have applied for the funds yet.

There are less than three million horses and mules in the United States today, compared with more than 25 million in 1920, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

In memory of William H. Robinson, who passed away one year ago today, Jan. 2, 1968.
Today I'll fix a meat loaf And bake some home made bread. And maybe Bill will come out home, Then I remember, Bill is dead! Dear Bill, how I miss you, My heart throbs with pain, Did you find peace in death, my son, Or was it all in vain? I mourn for you in silence, No eye can see me weep, But many tears are shed, my son, While others are asleep. Sadly missed by Mom, Harold, Peggy and Karen.

Millhorn, C. William — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who passed away one year ago today:
The moon and stars are shining
Where sleeps our husbnd and father
We loved but could not save.
We often sit and think of you and
Speak of how you died;
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best;
May God grant you eternal rest.
From his loving Wife, Children and Grandchildren.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Jan. 2, the second day of 1969. There are 363 days left in the year.

On this date in 1942, the Japanese captured Manila, 26 days after the start of the Pacific war.

In 1788, Georgia became the fourth state to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

In 1890, the first woman on the White House staff reported for work. She was a secretary, Alice Sanger of Indianapolis.

In 1960, Sen. John F. Kennedy, D-Mass., said he would seek the 1960 Democratic nomination for president.

Junior Editors Quiz on DOGS

QUESTION: What are the major groups of dogs and how can one tell them apart?

* * * *

ANSWER: The American Kennel Club divides the 115 pure breeds of dogs into six groups, which we show. Dogs within each group vary, but we'll try to give you some points about them. SPORTING DOGS hunt by sniffing the air for game. Pointers and setters point noses and bodies toward game; retrievers pick it up; spaniels flush birds into the air. These are very active, deep-chested dogs. HOUNDS are dogs which run after game, generally baying rather than barking. They are streamlined, speedy looking. WORKING DOGS do different jobs and look different. The German shepherd and old English sheepdog were bred to handle sheep, the huskies to haul sleds. The large St. Bernards and Newfoundlands often rescue lost or drowning people. TERRIERS were bred to catch small animals by digging; they generally have bushy beards and eyebrows. Important breeds are the Airdale, fox and Irish terrier, and the smaller Skye. NONSPORTING dogs include such different types as the graceful Dalmatian, cocky Boston terrier and squat bulldog. TOY DOGS, of various breeds, can be easily recognized because they are small.
